Three Adams countians and two Gettysburg college graduates are prisoners of the Japanese but are not believed to be among those liberated in the Commando raid. An Associated Press dispatch this noon lists only two Pennsylvanians in the group rescued, one from Cresson and one from Scranton.

By C. YATES McDANIEL
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Luzon, Jan. 31—(Delayed) (AP)—Men of Bataan, Corregidor and Singapore—513 of them—were snatched from under the flaming muzzles of Japanese guns last night in an exploit of unmatched daring. Some 400 picked men of the Sixth Ranger battalion and Filipino guerrillas made a commando raid 25 miles behind Japanese lines to empty a prison camp and partially fulfill one of the Philippines objectives closest to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's heart. They took Japanese guards by surprise and rescued 486 Americans, 23 British, three Dutch, and one Norwegian—all that were left in the prison camp in Nueva Ecija province of eastern Luzon. Many more hundreds of more able-bodied war prisoners had been sent to work camps in Japan. Hundreds of others had died.

ALL BUT 2 ALIVE
All but two of the men were brought out alive by the 121 men of the Sixth Ranger battalion who stormed into the prison stockade under command of Lt. Col. Henry Mucci of Bridgeport, Conn. The Rangers attacked with such merciless precision that not one of the Japanese stockade guards was left alive or able to resist. And they attacked with such care that not one of the prisoners was scratched.

Within a matter of minutes all had been released and were on their 25 miles journey to freedom, walking, carried on backs of husky rangers or riding in carabao carts.

100 CANNOT WALK
Nearly 100 were so weak from malnutrition, disease and three-year-old wounds that they could not walk when they were cut loose from Japanese bondage.

The rescue cost the lives of 27 Rangers and Filipinos in a guerrilla unit led by Maj. Robert Lapiam of Davenport, Ia., who fought off a savage tank-led Japanese attack along the escape corridor. The raiders killed 523 Japanese—more than one for every prisoner released—and knocked out 12 enemy tanks.

The first mass liberation of Allied prisoners of war in the western Pacific was accomplished by an all-night forced march east of the American lines to Cabu.

COMPLETE SURPRISE
The commando force, made up of the 121 Rangers and 286 Filipinos in the guerrilla unit, left American lines under protection of air cover and reached the prison camp without detection.

Their swift, fierce attack caught the guards completely by surprise. The Japanese struck back violently and persistently as the rescue column headed back toward the Sixth Ranger camp and freedom or the valiant men had been at the mercy of Japanese guards for nearly three years.

The heavy, disproportionate Japanese losses were inflicted in battering down these tank-led attacks. The commando raid, ordered on short notice when intelligence reports disclosed the whereabouts of the camp, was such a success that General MacArthur decorated every man in the force.

HOMAGE OF THOUSANDS
The lean and rugged captives received the homage of thousands of American soldiers now fighting to redeem the islands for which the veterans fought so valiantly and hopelessly. The youthful GI's formed an impromptu honor guard, flanking a military highway down which the rescue party passed after it returned to American lines.

It was the last of many marches for the rescued men—marches which began with the brutal "death march of Bataan."

The freed men showed their happiness, despite their sores and ulcers, wasted bodies and ragged clothes. Some looked helplessly up from litters. Others were proudly erect. There were old men with grey hair and faded, sunken eyes. Some were surprisingly young and almost at their normal weights. Others were limp from beriberi. Their shirts were tattered. Shorts were patched and repaired. Several officers still proudly wore their emblems of rank. There were battered campaign hats, overseas caps and one pre-war tie helmet.

SELLS COLORED OLEOMARGARINE, PAYS $200 FINE

Charles Lindeman, of Baltimore, a truck driver for the Eskay company, wholesale meat distributors from Baltimore, was fined $200 and costs this morning following his arrest by agents of the Pennsylvania State Department of Agriculture on charges of selling colored oleomargarine in violation of the Commonwealth law. The fine was paid. The maximum fine is $1,000.

Lindeman also was charged with selling the oleomargarine without a distributor's license from the Department of Agriculture, but sentence was suspended on that charge after the agents recommended leniency. The hearing was held before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore.

Arrested By Trooper

The driver was arrested by Pvt. James Walsh, of the local substation of the state police, on a warrant sworn out by J. E. Hellman, Harrisburg, of the department's bureau of foods and chemistry. M. D. Smith, also from Harrisburg and the same bureau, assisted.

The Department of Agriculture agents had been investigating the case for several weeks and had checked the driver's actions in Gettysburg several times. The arrest was made at the square.

The state law prohibits the coloring of oleomargarine by any manufacturer, and the sale of any oleo product containing any coloration or ingredients which would cause it to resemble yellow butter. Wholesale distributors also are required to pay a $500 yearly license fee.

Buyers Are Warned

This was the first prosecution in the county under the oleomargarine laws for a number of years. Mr. Hellman warned all wholesale and retail distributors and hotel, restaurant and boarding house proprietors to familiarize themselves with the law so as to avoid any possible violations of the statutes.

Colored oleo may not be served in any public eating place, he reminded restaurant owners. The uncolored may be served, but only after a license has been secured. The license fee is $50 for a hotel or restaurant and $10 per year for a boarding house.

Mr. Hellman said that any eating establishments that color and serve oleo, either alone or mixed with butter, are subject not only to state penalties, but also to federal laws. The federal code levies a tax of 10 cents per pound on all oleomargarine colored. A federal license also is necessary to process the oleo.

All cases prosecuted by the state Department of Agriculture are reported to the federal government, Mr. Hellman said, so that Treasury Department officials may take any other action they see fit.

Receives Army Citation For Saving Sailor From Quagmire

Brig. Gen. O. L. Spiller, commanding general of the Panama Canal Artillery Command, congratulates Cpl. Raymond Keller, of McKnightstown, as he presents him with official commendation.

(Special To The Times)

Headquarters, Panama Canal Department (By Mail)—A McKnightstown soldier who risked his life to help rescue a sailor from a death trap in a tidal bay quagmire last November was awarded an official commendation this week by Brig. Gen. O. L. Spiller, commanding general of the Panama Canal Artillery Command.

The citation was presented to Cpl. Raymond Keller, of McKnightstown, at a military review held in honor of him and ten fellow Coast Artillerymen whose combined efforts saved the life of the Navy man and earned from General Spiller praise as "an example of cooperative heroism which has underlined the success of American armies since the winning of our nation's independence."

Rescued From Death

"I wish to commend you," General Spiller wrote in his commendation to Corporal Keller, "for your part in effecting the rescue of a member of the armed forces who faced certain death when he was trapped neck-deep 250 feet off shore in a tidal bay quagmire in the Panama Canal Department on the night of November 16, 1944."

Lauding Corporal Keller for the "soldierly... and spontaneous manner in which you acted to save the victim without thought to your own safety, which was endangered when you became submerged in the mud-trap while torging a human chain to enable another enlisted man to reach the victim," General Spiller's citation concluded:

"I wish to congratulate you for demonstrating qualities of resourcefulness." (Please Turn to Page 7)

WOMEN FINISH R. C. COURSE

Nutrition certificates were presented Wednesday afternoon at a special meeting in the county Red Cross chapter office to 12 county women who successfully completed a course in nutrition work conducted during the fall by Mrs. Rasmus S. Saby, chapter chairman for that program.

Each of the women in the class completed the course. Those included in the group were: Mrs. J. R. Beard, Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, Mrs. J. Frank Grider, Mrs. J. L. Kallrider, Mrs. G. R. Larkin, Mrs. Donald M. Myers, Mrs. Milton R. Remmel, Mrs. Fred Tilberg and Miss Rose Stock, all of Gettysburg; Mrs. Harvey Raffensperger, of Arentsville; Miss Virginia Wright, of Biglerville; and Mrs. Dora S. Habenicht, of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Saby announced that all of the members of the nutrition class have signed for a course of study leading to certification as canteen aides. The new class will begin next evening at 7:30 o'clock in the chapter offices on Baltimore street.

The canteen aides course will qualify the workers to serve at canteens established for emergency feeding of large numbers of people. Mrs. Saby will be the instructor and conduct the classes. She also will have as guest speakers at the meetings a number of persons who are experts in different phases of mass feeding.

Any interested persons may join the class, Mrs. Saby said, and should attend the first meeting Monday evening.

GETTYSBURG DRAFT BOARD INDUCTS 16

Sixteen men from Gettysburg and western Adams county were sent to Harrisburg this morning by the Gettysburg draft board for induction into the armed forces to fill this district's February quota which was exactly twice as large as that for last month but lower than the 18 called in December.

Led by Philip Orton Nech, 336 Steinwehr avenue, insurance agent and father of three children, this morning's contingent included the following:

Frank William Murray, 453 Baltimore street, a volunteer; Clyde Lester Sowers, Fairfield R. 1; Huber Smith, Jr., Gettysburg R. 1; Robert Galen Bishop, Gettysburg R. 2; William Eugene Troxell, 10 East Broadway; Theodore Walter Slaybaugh, Biglerville; Elwood Marshall Miller, Biglerville R. 1; James W. Patterson, Chambersburg; Harold Patrick Irvin, Orttanna.

Ora William Boone, Biglerville R. 1; Samuel Weaver Knisely, Duncannon R. 2; Walter Francis Riley, 135 Franklin street; Glenn Lewis Hankey, 125 West High street; Martin Leroy Baltozer, 119 Chambersburg street, and William Charles Schopfer, who was transferred to this board from Helena, Montana.

The New Oxford board will fill its February call Friday morning. Several "busloads" of men from eastern Adams county were sent to Harrisburg this morning for pre-induction physical examinations.

COMMUNITY DAY HERE SATURDAY

Forty Gettysburg merchants are joining in the Gettysburg Community Day to be held here on Saturday.

A variety of display advertisements in today's edition of The Times reveals unusual values despite the reported shortage of some merchandise along some lines. By and large, however, the Community Day inducements are considered as attractive this year as during the past two years and local merchants are expecting local buyers to take advantage of the event this week-end.

With most of the roads to be open a large crowd of rural visitors are expected. The following merchants are participating:

Modern Miss Shoppe, Gettysburg Steam Laundry, Rex and Derick Inc., Trostle Appliance Store, Mump's Furniture shop, Gettysburg News Agency, Hennig's Bakery, Home Furnishing Company, Helen-Kay shop, Wentz's furniture store, Redding's Grocery, The Smart Shoppe, Parker House Pastry shop, Thompson's Ladies Ready to wear, Royal Jewelers, Anna Brier's specialty shop, G. C. Murphy Co., Fleetwing Service Station, Waldo Sherman, Williams shoe store, Harris Brothers, The Shoe Box, Virginia Myers, People's Drug store, Jacobs brothers, Acme Market, Rose-Ann Shoppe, Dougherty and Hartley, Mares Sherman, Staub's grocery, Minter's, Sherman's grocery, Gilbert's cleaners, Toby's, Evans food store, Majestic Grill, Tot Shoppe, Community stores, Shuman's, Yorktown service stores.

Red Cross Promotes Francis C. Lindaman

Francis C. Lindaman, of 16 East King street, Littlestown, has been promoted to assistant director of Zone A, comprising the Hawaiian, Marshall and Gilbert islands, for the American Red Cross. The appointment was announced recently by Bowen McCoy, chief deputy commissioner of the Pacific Ocean area.

Lindaman comes to his new post from 15 months' service as field director at Fort Shafter in Oahu, Hawaii. He has been connected with the Red Cross since February, 1943, and served as assistant field director with the Army Air Forces in St. Petersburg, Fla.; at Drew Field in Tampa, Fla., and at Pearl Harbor.

Before joining Red Cross, Lindaman taught at the Western Reserve Academy in Hudson, Ohio. He received his A.B. from Gettysburg college in 1935; the Certificate d'Etude de la Sorbonne from the University of Paris in 1937, and a master's degree from Harvard in 1939.

CHIMNEY FIRE

Gettysburg firemen quickly extinguished a chimney fire at the home of James Swartz, between Hunterstown and New Chester, Wednesday afternoon about 4:45 o'clock. Damage was reported as slight.

Soviets Massing For Assault On Defenses

By JAMES F. KING

London, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Russians with their fast-paced tanks and infantry have smashed to the banks of the Oder north-west of Kustrin at a point about 39 miles from Berlin, the German high command announced today.

It was possible that the Soviets were even closer than 39 miles, for the German command did not give the exact location of the penetration to the river. The Oder swings to within 28 miles of Berlin northwest of Kustrin. But immediately northwest of Kustrin it is 39 miles from the capital, and it seemed more likely that a point in the Kustrin vicinity was meant.

The eastern edge of Kustrin itself, one of the chief defenses of the German capital, was reached by the swift Soviet punches rapidly spreading the fires of war to the heart of the Reich, said German broadcasts.

Along a 70-mile front Marshal Gregory Zhukov massed waves of tanks and infantry for a quick smash at Berlin's greatest defenses.

Prisoners Report Panic

But at the center of his spearhead in the 40-mile wide Frankfurt salient between the Oder and the Warthe, the German high command said it had hurled in its reserves to halt the invading columns which already had broken through a defense shield 23 miles east of Frankfurt.

Red Air Fleet planes raked the Berlin-Frankfurt highways and Moscow dispatches said Nazi prisoners reported panic in the German capital because German civilians believe the airmen's red flares were artillery flashes.

Officially, Moscow placed the closest Soviet approach to Berlin at 63 miles, but an Associated Press dispatch from Moscow virtually confirmed the German reports of a much deeper advance.

Chief Berlin Defense

Kustrin, a 16th century fortified town of 16,000, is on the east bank of the Oder and on the north bank of the Warthe at the confluence of the two rivers.

DNB said this key town, one of the chief defenses of Berlin, was approached by Zhukov's forces on the north side of the Warthe which captured Landsberg and then moved on to Beysdorf, 63 miles northeast of Berlin.

It was about Frankfurt, a city of 75,000 on the west side of the Oder 17 miles south of Kustrin, that the Germans had grouped their strongest fortifications along the line of the Oder to protect communications between Berlin and Breslau in Silesia.

With his wings spread out on a 70-mile front, Zhukov was preparing for a mighty battle along the Oder which break German resistance and let the Red Army flood into Berlin.

The Germans were reported dynamiting, shelling and bombing the Oder in a frantic effort to break up natural ice bridges.

Rob Western Front

The Russians quoted German prisoners as saying large elements of the German air force had been stripped from the Cologne and Aachen sector of the western front as the Nazi high command threw in everything to stop the Russians.

Meanwhile, Gauleiter - dictator Paul Goebbels of Berlin was reported preparing a death-stand defense of Berlin.

"The enemy is ready to launch a frontal attack on the capital," the Berlin broadcast told the people. Three Swedish travelers, who had just reached Sweden from Berlin, were quoted in a Stockholm dispatch as saying that flashes from frontline artillery duels could be seen in Berlin. The thunder of battle, however, was not yet audible in the capital, they said.

Many evacuation trains Air passengers arriving in Sweden yesterday said that 10 to 20 evacuation trains were being run out of Berlin daily, taking residents to the southern province of Saxony.

Along the entire eastern front from Königsberg, in East Prussia, to Budapest, the Hungarian capital, the Russians reported successes.

Marshal Stalin, in an order of the day, announced the capture of Friedland and Heilsburg, south and southwest of Königsberg. Soviet shells continued to fall in the streets of Königsberg as the Russians tightened the squeeze on German forces now holding about one-fifth of East Prussia.

Nazi Siegfried Line Is Strangely Silent

By JAMES M. LONG

Paris, Feb. 1 (AP)—The American First Army advanced within plain sight of the strangely silent Siegfried line on a broad front today amid indications that the Germans had withdrawn farther back.

Overnight advances generally reached four miles deeper into Germany. Village after village fell. Patrols entered the fringes of the Siegfried line in the Monschau sector, where a whole three-mile section was captured earlier in the week. Third Army infantrymen seized four more German towns.

An eerie silence covered the big Nazi guns in the lines, but American artillery of both the First and Third Army laid a barrage on the fortifications along a 40-mile sector opposite Belgium and Luxembourg. The heaviest enemy resistance was limited strictly to small arms and accurate mortar screening. Troops frankly were amazed at the complete lack of artillery and, in most cases, the enemy's reluctance to stand and fight.

Take 1,332 Prisoners The First Army alone captured

1,332 prisoners in the 24 hours to midnight, its largest haul since Jan. 3. That was a commentary on German morale.

The German cross-Rhine holdings north and south of Strasbourg also began to collapse, reflecting a weakening along the whole western front.

Allied planes spotted heavy German rail movements eastward from Karlsruhe and Mannheim and through Heilbronn, indicating a further thinning of German defenses. Roads north of Wissembourg, above the U. S. 7th Army front, were jammed.

The Colmar pocket was steadily being reduced from north and south. Colmar itself (46,000) was outflanked and American and French troops were close to the Colmar-Breisach road leading to the only permanent Rhine bridge standing in the Strasbourg sector. Street fighting progressed in Cerney; Wittelsheim fell. Gumbheim and Beutenhofen, north of Strasbourg, were captured and the Allies moved to within two miles of the river.

Is General Attack At Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters in the north, a spokesman for the 21st Army group said the battle had developed into a general attack all along the western front toward the Siegfried line. He expressed doubt, however, that the Germans would yield the fortifications without a hard fight. A 35-mile section of the line has been captured by American arms along the Roer river north of the Monschau area.

Seven First Army divisions smote the west wall from positions mostly inside Germany. Four or more Third Army divisions were on the attack in a seven-mile Our river bridgehead southeast of St. Vith and along the German-Luxembourg border.

A considerable change to milder temperatures and steadily falling rain washed snow from the forests and hills and left only white patches on a black background, which two days ago had been solid white. Roads became double lanes of rushing rivulets of slush.

Other Advances

Despite these weather handicaps which impeded transport and checked the use of armor, the grounded 82nd Airborne Division advanced a mile beyond the German

Naval Base At Olongapo Now In American Hands

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Luzon, Feb. 1 (AP) Subic bay and its naval repair base of Olongapo, dotted with pillboxes but inexplicably abandoned by the Japanese, were back in American hands today as unblunted Yank spearheads to the east rolled clear of a dangerous bottleneck passage only 28 miles from Manila.

Well-trifled Grande island, the "little Corregidor" guarding the entrance to Subic bay, was taken without opposition Tuesday by Eighth Army troops. Units of the U. S. Seventh Fleet then steamed into Subic bay.

Other elements of Lt. Gen. Robert Eichelberger's Eighth Army moved by road along the inner rim of Subic bay to capture the Olongapo naval base which, before the war, was an American depot.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in his communique today that "we are now using this excellent anchorage, and development of a Naval base is already under way."

Well Outfitted Olongapo was well outfitted with Japanese dugouts and pillboxes—all empty. Similarly, Grande island was abandoned by the enemy, its American guns "pointing disconsolately out to sea," in the words of Associated Press Correspondent James Hulsehson.

Sixth Army troops 35 miles to the east meanwhile reached the town of Calumpit, 28 road miles from Manila, in a drive down an easily-defensible stretch of highway flanked by huge swamplands.

Failure of the Japanese to put up a fight in this natural defense zone was as puzzling as the enemy's lack of opposition at Subic bay.

The Americans crossed the Pam-panga river just north of Calumpit to swing free of the swampy corridor and aim down the straight Manila highway. They were approaching Malolos, 22 road miles from Manila.

One column of Sixth Army troops, which has been moving southward from Lingayen, turned westward on the Bataan peninsula road from San Fernando and captured Lubao.

Severs Valley Road MacArthur announced the severing of the Cagayan valley road, only highway of the Central Luzon plains left in Japanese control, with the capture of Munoz and Talavera.

Farther north, near dearly-won Rosario, Americans captured the Udiao road junction which sends an artery into mountainous Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines and likely Japanese headquarters, 14 miles to the north.

A daring and destructive raid by swift P-T boats, with fighter plane support, destroyed 51 Japanese coastal vessels in raids on Batangas bay, south of Manila, and Ilocos bay to the north.

Heavy bombers pounded the Cavite naval base with 57 tons of bombs. Escorted Liberators swept across the China sea to score a smashing strike at Heito airdrome on southwestern Formosa.

COLD WEATHER RECORDS SET IN JANUARY

January, one of the coldest months in years in Gettysburg weather annals, came to a typical close Wednesday midnight as icy winds from the west swept over snows that have covered the ground since a week before Christmas and held the mercury far below the freezing point.

Wednesday night's official low here was 14 degrees above zero. During last month which even the old-timers admit brought "some real old-fashioned winter weather" to this section, Gettysburg received 23 inches of snow which, added to the seven inches measured in December, brought the winter's total snowfall to date to 30 inches.

The record cold weather that got off to a flying start in December by setting 1944 marks for frigidly sent the thermometer down to two above zero for the season's record on January 18. The nearest approach to that mark was on the 21st when the mercury sank to three above.

Below Average For Month
There were only two days last month on which freezing temperatures were not recorded. During eight days last month the thermometer never got above the freezing point. High winds and sleet added to the severity of January weather here.

The average daily maximum temperature recorded here by Dr. Henry Stewart, the local official observer, was 32.5 degrees while the average daily low was 17.9 degrees. The month's average temperature was 25.2 degrees which is 4.7 degrees below January's normal average.

The "warmest" day last month was January 4 when a maximum of 46 degrees was reached. Precipitation totaled 2.86 inches with the snowfall converted into water. That total is 3 inches below normal for January. The heaviest snowfall occurred the night of January 15 and on the following day, the snow reaching a depth of 15 inches here.

Doctor Stewart recorded 17 of January's days as clear, two as partly cloudy and 12 as cloudy.

GETTYSBURG DRAFT BOARD INDUCTS 16

Sixteen men from Gettysburg and western Adams county were sent to Harrisburg this morning by the Gettysburg draft board for induction into the armed forces to fill this district's February quota which was exactly twice as large as that for last month but lower than the 18 called in December.

Led by Philip Orton Neth, 336 Steinwehr avenue, insurance agent and father of three children, this morning's contingent included the following:

Frank William Murray, 453 Baltimore street, a volunteer; Clyde Lester Sowers, Fairfield R. 1; Huber Smith, Jr., Gettysburg R. 1; Robert Galen Bishop, Gettysburg R. 2; William Eugene Troxell, 10 East Broadway; Theodore Walter Slaybaugh, Biglerville; Elwood Marshall Miller, Biglerville R. 1; James W. Patterson, Chambersburg; Harold Patrick Irvin, Orrtanna.

Ora William Boone, Biglerville R. 1; Samuel Weaver Knisely, Duncannon R. 2; Walter Francis Riley, 135 Franklin street; Glenn Lewis Hankey, 125 West High street; Martin Leroy Baltozer, 119 Chambersburg street, and William Charles Schopfer, who was transferred to this board from Helena, Montana.

The New Oxford board will fill its February call Friday morning. Several "busloads" of men from eastern Adams county were sent to Harrisburg this morning for pre-induction physical examinations.

COMMUNITY DAY HERE SATURDAY

Forty Gettysburg merchants are joining in the Gettysburg Community Day to be held here on Saturday.

A variety of display advertisements in today's edition of The Times reveals unusual values despite the reported shortage of some merchandise along some lines. By and large, however, the Community Day inducements are considered as attractive this year as during the past two years and local merchants are expecting local buyers to take advantage of the event this week-end.

With most of the roads to be open a large crowd of rural visitors are expected. The following merchants are participating:

Modern Miss Shoppe, Gettysburg Steam Laundry, Rea and Derick Inc., Trostle Appliance Store, Mump's Furniture shop, Gettysburg News Agency, Hennis's Bakery, Home Furnishing Company, Helen Kay shop, Wentz's furniture store, Redding's Grocery, The Smart Shoppe, Parker House Pastry shop, Thompson's Ladies Ready to wear, Royal Jewelers, Anna Bierer's specialty shop, G. C. Murphy Co., Fleetwing Service Station, Waldo Sherman, Williams shoe store, Harris Brothers, The Shoe Box, Virginia Myers, People's Drug store, Jacobs brothers, Acme Market, Rose-Ann Shoppe, Dougherty and Hartley, Mares Sherman, Staub's grocery, Minter's, Sherman's grocery, Gilbert's cleaners, Toby's, Evans food store, Majestic Grill, Tot Shoppe, Community stores, Shuman's, Yorktowne service stores.

Red Cross Promotes Francis C. Lindaman

Francis C. Lindaman, of 16 East King street, Littlestown, has been promoted to assistant director of Zone A, comprising the Hawaiian, Marshall and Gilbert islands, for the American Red Cross. The appointment was announced recently by Bowen McCoy, chief deputy commissioner of the Pacific Ocean area.

Lindaman comes to his new post from 15 months' service as field director at Fort Shafter in Oahu, Hawaii. He has been connected with the Red Cross since February, 1943, and served as assistant field director with the Army Air Forces in St. Petersburg, Fla., at Drew Field in Tampa, Fla., and at Pearl Harbor.

Before joining Red Cross, Lindaman taught at the Western Reserve Academy in Hudson, Ohio. He received his A.B. from Gettysburg college in 1935; the Certificate d'étude de la Sorbonne from the University of Paris in 1937, and a master's degree from Harvard in 1939.

CHIMNEY FIRE

Gettysburg firemen quickly extinguished a chimney fire at the home of James Swartz, between Hunterstown and New Chester, Wednesday afternoon about 4:45 o'clock. Damage was reported as slight.

Soviets Massing For Assault On Defenses

By JAMES F. KING
London, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Russians with their fast-paced tanks and infantry have smashed to the banks of the Oder north-west of Kustrin at a point about 39 miles from Berlin, the German high command announced today.

It was possible that the Soviets were even closer than 39 miles, for the German communiqué did not give the exact location of the penetration to the river. The Oder swings to within 28 miles of Berlin northwest of Kustrin. But immediately northwest of Kustrin it is 39 miles from the capital, and it seemed more likely that a point in the Kustrin vicinity was meant.

The eastern edge of Kustrin itself, one of the chief defenses of the German capital, was reached by the swift Soviet punches rapidly spreading the fires of war to the heart of the Reich, said German broadcasts.

Along a 70-mile front Marshal Gregory Zhukov massed waves of tanks and infantry for a quick smash at Berlin's greatest defenses.

Prisoners Report Panic
But at the center of his spearhead in the 40-mile wide Frankfurt salient between the Oder and the Warthe, the German high command said it had hurled in its reserves to halt the invading columns which already had broken through a defense shield 23 miles east of Frankfurt.

Red Air Fleet planes raked the Berlin-Frankfurt highways and Moscow dispatches said Nazi prisoners reported panic in the German capital because German civilians believe the airmen's red flares were artillery flashes.

Officially, Moscow placed the closest Soviet approach to Berlin at 63 miles, but an Associated Press dispatch from Moscow virtually confirmed the German reports of a much deeper advance.

Chief Berlin Defense
Kustrin, a 16th century fortified town of 16,000, is on the east bank of the Oder and on the north bank of the Warthe at the confluence of the two rivers.

DNB said this key town, one of the chief defenses of Berlin, was approached by Zhukov's forces on the north side of the Warthe which captured Landsberg and then moved on to Beysersdorf, 68 miles north-east of Berlin.

It was about Frankfurt, a city of 75,000 on the west side of the Oder 17 miles south of Kustrin, that the Germans had grouped their strongest fortifications along the line of the Oder to protect communications between Berlin and Breslau in Silesia.

With his wings spread out on a 70-mile front, Zhukov was preparing for a mighty battle along the Oder which break German resistance and let the Red Army flood into Berlin.

The Germans were reported dynamiting, shelling and bombing the Oder in a frantic effort to break up natural ice bridges.

Rob Western Front
The Russians quoted German prisoners as saying large elements of the German air force had been stripped from the Cologne and Aachen sector of the western front as the Nazi high command threw in everything to stop the Russians.

Meanwhile, Gauleiter - dictator Paul Goebbels of Berlin was reported preparing a death-stand defense of Berlin.

"The enemy is ready to launch a frontal attack on the capital," the Berlin broadcast told the people. Three Swedish travelers, who had just reached Sweden from Berlin, were quoted in a Stockholm dispatch as saying that flashes from frontline artillery duels could be seen in Berlin. The thunder of battle, however, was not yet audible in the capital, they said.

Many Evacuation Trains
Air passengers arriving in Sweden yesterday said that 10 to 20 evacuation trains were being run out of Berlin daily, taking residents to the southern province of Saxony.

Along the entire eastern front from Königsberg, in East Prussia, to Budapest, the Hungarian capital, the Russians reported successes.

Marshal Stalin, in an order of the day, announced the capture of Friedland and Heilsburg, south and southwest of Königsberg. Soviet shells continued to fall in the streets of Königsberg as the Russians tightened the squeeze on German forces now holding about one-fifth of East Prussia.

Nazi Siegfried Line Is Strangely Silent

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Feb. 1 (AP)—The American First Army advanced within plain sight of the strangely silent Siegfried line on a broad front today amid indications that the Germans had withdrawn farther back.

Overnight advances generally reached four miles deeper into Germany. Village after village fell. Patrols entered the fringes of the Siegfried line in the Monschau sector, where a whole three-mile section was captured earlier in the week. Third Army infantrymen seized four more German towns.

An eerie silence covered the big Nazi guns in the lines, but American artillery of both the First and Third Army laid a barrage on the fortifications along a 40-mile sector opposite Belgium and Luxembourg. The heaviest enemy resistance was limited strictly to small arms and accurate mortar shelling. Troops frankly were amazed at the complete lack of artillery and, in most cases, the enemy's reluctance to stand and fight.

Take 1,332 Prisoners
The First Army alone captured

1,332 prisoners in the 24 hours to midnight, its largest haul since Jan. 3. That was a commentary on German morale.

The German cross-Rhine holdings north and south of Strasbourg also began to collapse, reflecting a weakening along the whole western front.

Allied planes spotted heavy German rail movements eastward from Karlsruhe and Mannheim and through Heilbronn, indicating a further thinning of German defenses. Roads north of Wissembourg, above the U. S. 7th Army front, were jammed.

The Colmar pocket was steadily being reduced from north and south. Colmar itself (46,000) was outflanked and American and French troops were close to the Colmar-Breisach road leading to the only permanent Rhine bridge standing in the Strasbourg sector. Street fighting progressed in Cernay; Wittelsheim fell. Gumbshausen and Bettenhofen, north of Strasbourg, were captured and the Allies moved to within two miles of the river.

Is General Attack
At Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters in the north, a spokesman for the 21st Army group said the battle had developed into a general attack all along the western front toward the Siegfried line. He expressed doubt, however, that the Germans would yield the fortifications without a hard fight. A 35-mile section of the line has been captured by American arms along the Roer river north of the Monschau area.

Seven First Army divisions flanked the west wall from positions mostly inside Germany. Four or more Third Army divisions were on the attack in a seven-mile Our river bridgehead southeast of St. Vith and along the German-Luxembourg border.

A considerable change to milder temperatures and steadily falling rain washed snow from the forests and hills and left only white patches on a black background, which two days ago had been solid white. Roads became double lanes of rushing rivulets of slush.

Other Advances
Despite these weather handicaps which impeded transport and checked the use of armor, the grounded 82nd Airborne Division advanced a mile beyond the German

a Naval base is already under way."

Well Outfitted
Olongapo was well outfitted with Japanese dugouts and pillboxes—all empty. Similarly, Grande island was abandoned by the enemy, its American guns "pointing disconsolately out to sea," in the words of Associated Press Correspondent James Hutcheson.

Sixth Army troops 35 miles to the east meanwhile reached the town of Calumpit, 28 road miles from Manila, in a drive down an easily-defensible stretch of highway flanked by huge swamplands.

Failure of the Japanese to put up a fight in this natural defense zone was as puzzling as the enemy's lack of opposition at Subic bay.

The Americans crossed the Pamanga river just north of Calumpit to swing free of the swampy corridor and aim down the straight Manila highway. They were approaching Malolos, 22 road miles from Manila.

One column of Sixth Army troops, which has been moving southward from Lingayen, turned westward on the Bataan peninsula road from San Fernando and captured Lubao.

Severs Valley Road
MacArthur announced the severing of the Cagayan valley road, only highway of the Central Luzon plains left in Japanese control, with the capture of Munoz and Talavera.

Farther north, near dearly-won Rosario, Americans captured the Udaio road junction which sends an artery into mountainous Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines and likely Japanese headquarters, 14 miles to the north.

A daring and destructive raid by swift P-T boats, with fighter plane support, destroyed 51 Japanese coastal vessels in raids on Batangas bay, south of Manila, and Ilocos bay to the north.

Heavy bombers pounded the Cavite naval base with 57 tons of bombs. Escorted Liberators swept across the China sea to score a smashing strike at Heito airdrome on southwestern Formosa.

GERMANY MUST PUT UP FIGHT AGAINST REDS

(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)
Regardless of the outcome of the battle of the Oder which approaches hourly nearer, there are two items in recent German dispatches which, overshadowed by the Russian advance along the Warthe, nevertheless may play an important role in Hitler's collapse.

A few days will tell whether the Germans have been able to devise any real defenses before Berlin — whether the Russians are to continue unchecked, or whether they will have to stop at the river to pull up their galleys as they did at the Vistula last summer.

However, if the Russians are at Sorau farther south, as the Germans say, any massing of Nazi strength in the Frankfurt area may mean little more than have the holdouts at Torun, Poznan, Elbing and Nonsberg.

Threat To Foe

While Sorau is twice as far from Berlin as Frankfurt, there is one big difference. It is 30 miles west of the Oder, well inside the area where Germany was supposed to have strong defenses. That could mean much or little regarding defenses farther South. The important thing is that the 75 miles between what the Germans call Marshal Konev's northern anchor and Berlin is through flat country, somewhat more wooded than Zhunov's direct route, but criss-crossed by only minor water courses. If Konev is making a major effort there (and it would be normal for the Russians to keep silent about such a move until its outcome was foreseeable) the German Army and Berlin could be placed in a position similar to that which would have occurred last fall had the western Allies, crossing at Arnheim, pushed up the east bank of the Rhine toward Dortmund.

The other report serves more as a reminder that, regardless of any delays which may occur at the Oder or because of such "Banzai charges" as that of the Belgian bulge, Hitler's clock has about run down. The Germans mention renewed Russian attacks south of Lake Balaton in Hungary.

That means the German Army is under actual attack, with the exception of a few very short stretches, on more than 1,500 miles of front. Before the Russian offensive began, before the losses which Hitler has taken recently on both eastern and western fronts, he was credited with 2,000 men per mile — and he couldn't hold them. The conclusion is too obvious to mention.

A number of highways, including most of the rural roads in the western, central and northern parts of the county were covered with snow drifted by strong winds Wednesday night and early this morning.

J. William Kendeheart, Jr., superintendent of the local office of the state Highway department, reported that approximately 40 per cent of the rural dirt roads are drifted shut. A number of the secondary highways in the county, including the Fairfield-Cashtown road, and the Mummasburg road also were blocked last night and the Harrisburg road was covered in a number of places with drifts.

The Fairfield school closed this morning at 11:30 o'clock after none of the buses which transport pupils from the rural areas arrived for the session. The bus drivers reported that it was impossible to make the run.

Coal Shipments Shacked By Ice

Pittsburgh, Feb. 1 (AP) — Ice formations in the Monongahela river today threatened a serious shacking of much needed coal shipments to western Pennsylvania's meager coal bins.

The Solid Fuels Administrations said barges normally carrying 900 tons of coal had to cut their loads as low as 700 tons. One barge shipment, SFA said, required six hours to pass through one upper river lock.

Earlier the SFA reported diverting coal from utilities and railroads to relieve the plight of household consumers.

New Castle, Pa., and Youngstown, O., mayors appealed for increased supplies, the SFA said. New Castle schools have been closed all week. Additional snow snarled traffic on highways.

School Officials Cancel Meetings

County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh announced today that the 50th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State School Directors' association and the state School Secretaries association have been cancelled.

That word was received in a letter from Preston O. VanNess, executive secretary of the two groups, who said the cancellations were in accordance with the request recently issued by Director of War Mobilization James P. Byrnes.

The meetings were originally scheduled to be held in Harrisburg for February 8 and 9. Mr. VanNess said the work of the associations would be carried on by the executive boards and the resolutions committees which will meet in the near future. Those groups will form resolutions which will be reported to the members of the associations.

Woman Attacker Is Held Without Bail

Camden, N. J., Feb. 1 (AP) — "I'll kill him," shouted Daniel Chew of Camden in police court here yesterday as he lunged toward a man charged with attacking Chew's wife and attempting to attack five other women.

Court attendants halted Chew's rush down the aisle and forced him back into his seat and the hearing of Reid Dubose, 31, of Philadelphia, charged with rape, was continued. Dubose was held without bail.

Sailor Dies Of Gas Fumes; Wife Ill

Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (AP) — MacPhist's Mate 1/c Francis A. Spell, Charleston, S. C., was asphyxiated accidentally today and his wife, Geraldine, 19, overcame at the home of Spell's aunt, Mrs. William A. Evans, of suburban Drexel Hill.

Mrs. Evans said she found a gas burner turned on, but the flame extinguished. Spell was pronounced dead upon arrival at a hospital, but his wife was revived.

PROGRAM FOR AG. SESSIONS IS ANNOUNCED

Details of the program for the 29th annual meeting of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association to be held in the Gettysburg high school auditorium next Tuesday beginning at 10 a. m., were announced today by County Agent M. T. Hartman.

H. E. Brown, of Fairfield, president, will preside at the meeting which will be opened with a devotional service conducted by the Rev. H. W. Sternat, of Biglerville.

Following routine business, a nominating committee will be appointed, a number of reports given, and discussions held.

Annual Reports

First will be a resume of the work conducted in home economics given by Mrs. B. E. Benner, of Fairfield. Mrs. Elliot Taylor, Gettysburg R. D., will present a report on the home economics 4-H club work. Following this, Miss Dorothy Traux, extension nutrition specialist from Pennsylvania State college, will present an illustrated talk dealing with nutritional problems encountered in "feeding the family."

The next scheduled discussion is by Robert C. Lott, president of the Adams County Fruit Growers' association, who will talk on fruit growing practices. A similar discussion on methods used in growing tomatoes will be given by P. A. Lerew, York Springs, and Simon Murren, of Hanover R. D. will then tell how he made farm operations easier on his farm.

Two Discussions

The two discussions which probably will hold the most immediate interest for farmers with large farms, will be those on the labor set-up and the essentiality of men in agriculture. J. B. Collins, manager of the local Emergency Farm Labor office, will give a resume of the EFL program in the county. A discussion on "The Essential Men in Agriculture," will be given by H. F. Snyder, of Littlestown, chairman of the Adams county War Board.

A. C. Hug, assistant county agent, will give a brief report on 4-H club activities in baby beef work, followed by a summary of the extension work in agriculture by Mr. Hartman.

A report of the nominating committee and the election of a board of 15 directors will take place, after which, Dr. M. E. John, extension rural sociologist from State college, will present an address, "These Things We Must Do," to conclude the program for the day. The noon meal will be served in the high school cafeteria.

Mr. Hartman emphasized the fact that this will be a public meeting, and all residents of the county are invited to attend.

BULLETINS

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP) — The administration won a slender victory in the fight to salvage a cabinet post for Henry Wallace today when the Senate voted 43 to 41 to delay action on the nomination. The original vote on the Bailey motion was a tie, 42 to 42, but Senator Taft, (R.-Ohio), changed his vote in order to be able to move reconsideration of the motion of Senator Bailey, (D.-N. C.), to put the Senate in executive session to consider the nomination immediately.

Mexico City, Feb. 1 (AP) — More than 100 persons were reported killed and about 150 injured in a rear-end collision of trains at Cazadero, state of Hidalgo, about 100 miles north of here at 12:47 a. m. today. It was said a freight train crashed into the rear of a passenger train of pilgrims passing the station of Cazadero and bound for Mexico City. The pilgrims were returning from a religious festival for the Virgin Mary at San Juan de Los Lagos, in the State of Jalisco.

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP) — Governor Martin today formally proclaimed February 1 as "National Freedom Day" in Pennsylvania, to commemorate abolition of slavery and urged its observance with appropriate ceremonies throughout the Commonwealth.

(By The Associated Press)
Unconfirmed Tokyo broadcasts today reported three single Superfortress sorties over the home islands of Japan last night. The broadcasts, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, monotonously claimed all bombs fell in forests or paddy fields. The B-29's were reported over Shikoku island, lying between off-bombed Honshu and Kyushu islands, and the east coast of Honshu, the main island of Nippon.

CALLED FOR EXAMS

Merle Ray Brewbaker, Orrianna R. D., Charles Lester Myers and Charles L. Bream, both of Gardner R. D., have been ordered by the Carlisle draft board to report February 10 for pre-induction physical examinations.

BIGLER SCHOOLS IN STATE YMCA PROGRAM

In line with a program sponsored by the State Young Men's Christian Association in the high schools of Pennsylvania, the Biglerville schools will conduct classes one day each week for seven consecutive weeks for the study of current problems in the world. At the conclusion of the series the students will take examinations outlined by the state organization the results of which will be the determining factor in naming the prize winners in the state. Two years ago the local board had two first and two second prize winners and last year one first and one second.

The school will be divided into four groups for study—senior girls, senior boys, junior girls and junior boys. A member of the faculty will present the problem of each of the groups after which the students will join in open discussion. The first classes were held this afternoon to study the problem "What Is Wrong With the World?" Material for the classes is sent here by the state organization.

George Inskip met with the senior boys today, Arthur Gordon with the junior boys, Mrs. Miriam Frank with the senior girls, and Miss Mary Avil with the junior girls.

This is the fifth year that the Biglerville schools have been a part of this state program in which between six and seven hundred high schools of the state participate.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bushman and family were Sunday guests of Mrs. Bushman's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Klepper, Carlisle. Mr. and Mrs. Klepper entertained at a dinner in honor of her nephew, Petty Officer David Bushman, of Camp Peary, Virginia, who was celebrating his birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Harry Walter is reported to be slowly improving from a recent serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Benton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elias N. Hoffman, Wednesday.

The meeting of the consistory of Trinity-Bender's Reformed church will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the church instead of at the home of Herbert Miller as originally planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Wolford recently entertained at their home at Idaville Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moose and daughter, Linda, and Cpl. Miller, of York.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hawbecker and son, Freddy, of Biglerville, have returned from a visit with Mr. Hawbecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Hawbecker, of Chambersburg. Mr. Hawbecker's brother, David Hawbecker, pharmacist 1/c, is home on his first visit in four and one-half years. He recently returned from service in the South Pacific.

Mrs. A. A. D'Angelo has returned to Warren, Ind., after spending several months with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Pitzer, Biglerville.

The Biglerville school board will hold a regular meeting Friday evening.

The C. H. M. club will meet at the cafeteria of the Biglerville plant of the Musselman company, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Surplus Property Sales Being Probed

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP) — Senators investigating the surplus property sales of Jacob (The Finder) Goldberg sought to develop today the extent of his contacts in government circles.

Testimony already in the record discloses he got a contract from the Defense Plant corporation to conduct two auctions despite his alleged attempt to "buy the influence" of a $5,600 DPC engineer with an offer of a $20,000 job.

It came yesterday from John VanGinhoven, acting engineer in charge of DPC surplus property in the Nashville, Tenn. district.

Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York, whose complaint against Goldberg, veteran finder and auctioneer of distressed properties, led to the investigation, was called in today to tell his story.

VanGinhoven testified that Goldberg offered him a job at a meeting in a hotel room in Cleveland, Ohio, last August 9.

5 Nazi Prisoners Sentenced To Die

New York, Feb. 1 (AP) — Five German prisoners of war have been sentenced to death by a court-martial. Newsweek magazine says, because they beat to death a fellow prisoner they suspected of giving valuable military information to the United States.

Newsweek, in its February 5 issue, declares the men killed a comrade at Camp Tonkawa, Okla., November 5, 1943, and now are awaiting "their doom in a federal penitentiary."

The dead man was identified as Cpl. Johann Kunze. The five men, all non-commissioned officers, were identified as Walter Beyer, Berthold Seidel, Hans Demme, Willi Scholz and Hans Schomer.

Coal Shipments Shacked By Ice

Pittsburgh, Feb. 1 (AP)—Ice formations in the Monongahela river today threatened a further shacking of much needed coal shipments to western Pennsylvania's meager coal bins.

The Fuel Fuels Administrations said barges normally carrying 900 tons of coal had to cut their loads as low as 700 tons. One barge shipment, SPA said, required six hours to pass through one upper river lock.

Earlier the SFA reported diverting coal from utilities and railroads to relieve the plight of household consumers.

New Castle, Pa., and Youngstown, O., mayors appealed for increased supplies, the SFA said. New Castle schools have been closed all week. Additional snow snarled traffic on highways.

School Officials Cancel Meetings

County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh announced today that the 50th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State School Directors' association and the state School Secretaries association have been cancelled.

That word was received in a letter from Preston O. VanNess, executive secretary of the two groups, who said the cancellations were in accordance with the request recently issued by Director of War Mobilization James F. Byrnes.

The meetings were originally scheduled to be held in Harrisburg for February 8 and 9. Mr. VanNess said the work of the associations would be carried on by the executive boards and the resolutions committees which will meet in the near future. Those groups will form resolutions which will be reported to the members of the associations.

Woman Attacker Is Held Without Bail

Camden, N. J., Feb. 1 (AP)—"I'll kill him," shouted Daniel Chew of Camden in police court here yesterday as he lunged toward a man charged with attacking Chew's wife and attempting to attack five other women.

Court attendants halted Chew's rush down the aisle and forced him back into his seat and the hearing of Reid Dubose, 31, of Philadelphia, charged with rape, was continued. Dubose was held without bail.

Prisoners Free After Three Years

By FRED HAMPTON

Luzon, P. I., Jan. 31 (Delayed) (AP)—Five hundred and thirteen white men emerged from a Japanese prison camp today. By the calendar's reckoning they had been captives almost three years. By their own glazed reckoning a wretched eternity was ending.

One of them, Staff Sgt. Clinton Goodbia, of Longview, Wash., member of the 60th Coast Artillery when he was captured on Corregidor, said: "When we walked through the lines this morning I saw an American flag."

Goodbia's haggard face gathered into a sob. He suddenly buried his head in his arms. His body shuddered with such violence of emotion I couldn't watch.

It was as though he were showing his soul in an uncontrolled paroxysm that had grief and release and relief in terrible thankfulness in it. It wasn't decent to watch him.

Named Magistrate For Emmitsburg

Joseph K. Ash, instructor in business administration at Mr. St. Mary's college, has been appointed trial magistrate and justice of the peace at Emmitsburg by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor to succeed the late Francis J. Campbell, it became known Tuesday after Mr. Ash qualified before the clerk of the Circuit Court.

Mr. Ash's appointment is for the remainder of a two-year term from the first Monday in May, 1943, and therefore will expire this year. The position pays $600 a year and the office has been vacant since the death of Mr. Campbell several months ago. The new appointee is also an instructor at St. Joseph's college.

SUV MEETING

The regular meeting of the Gettysburg Camp No. 112, Sons of Union Veterans, will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the post rooms on East Middle street. During the business meeting, funeral plans will be made for the Lincoln birthday program scheduled for February 9.

PROGRAM FOR AG. SESSIONS IS ANNOUNCED

Details of the program for the 29th annual meeting of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association to be held in the Gettysburg high school auditorium next Tuesday beginning at 10 a. m., were announced today by County Agent M. T. Hartman.

H. E. Brown, of Fairfield, president, will preside at the meeting which will be opened with a devotional service conducted by the Rev. H. W. Sternat, of Biglerville.

Following routine business, a nominating committee will be appointed, a number of reports given, and discussions held.

Annual Reports

First will be a resume of the work conducted in home economics given by Mrs. B. E. Benner, of Fairfield. Mrs. Elliot Taylor, Gettysburg R. D., will present a report on the home economics 4-H club work. Following this, Miss Dorothy Traux, extension nutrition specialist from Pennsylvania State college, will present an illustrated talk dealing with nutritional problems encountered in "feeding the family."

The next scheduled discussion is by Robert C. Lott, president of the Adams County Fruit Growers' association, who will talk on fruit growing practices. A similar discussion on methods used in growing tomatoes will be given by P. A. Lerew, York Springs, and Simon Murren, of Hanover R. D., will then tell how he made farm operations easier on his farm.

Two Discussions

The two discussions which probably will hold the most immediate interest for farmers with large farms, will be those on the labor set-up and the essentiality of men in agriculture. J. B. Collins, manager of the local Emergency Farm Labor office, will give a resume of the EPI program in the county. A discussion on "The Essential Men in Agriculture" will be given by H. F. Snyder, of Littlestown, chairman of the Adams county War Board. A. C. Hug, assistant county agent, will give a brief report on 4-H club activities in baby beef work, followed by a summary of the extension work in agriculture by Mr. Hartman.

A report of the nominating committee and the election of a board of 15 directors will take place, after which, Dr. M. E. John, extension rural sociologist from State college, will present an address, "These Things We Must Do," to conclude the program for the day. The noon meal will be served in the high school cafeteria.

Mr. Hartman emphasized the fact that this will be a public meeting, and all residents of the county are invited to attend.

BULLETINS

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—The administration won a slender victory in the fight to salvage a cabinet post for Henry Wallace today when the Senate voted 43 to 41 to delay action on the nomination. The original vote on the Bailey motion was a tie, 42 to 42, but Senator Taft, (R-Ohio), changed his vote in order to be able to move reconsideration of the motion of Senator Bailey, (D-N.C.), to put the Senate in executive session to consider the nomination immediately.

Mexico City, Feb. 1 (AP)—More than 100 persons were reported killed and about 150 injured in a rear-end collision of trains at Cazadero, state of Hidalgo, about 100 miles north of here at 12:47 a. m. today. It was said a freight train crashed into the rear of a passenger train of pilgrims passing the station of Cazadero and bound for Mexico City. The pilgrims were returning from a religious festival for the Virgin Mary at San Juan de Los Lagos, in the State of Jalisco.

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—Governor Martin today formally proclaimed February 1 as "National Freedom Day" in Pennsylvania, to commemorate abolition of slavery and urged its observance with appropriate ceremonies throughout the Commonwealth.

BIGLER SCHOOLS IN STATE YMCA PROGRAM

In line with a program sponsored by the State Young Men's Christian Association in the high schools of Pennsylvania, the Biglerville schools will conduct classes one day each week for seven consecutive weeks for the study of current problems in the world. At the conclusion of the series the students will take examinations outlined by the state organization the results of which will be the determining factor in naming the prize winners in the state. Two years ago the local board had two first and two second prize winners and last year one first and one second.

The school will be divided into four groups for study—senior girls, senior boys, junior girls and junior boys. A member of the faculty will present the problem of each of the groups after which the students will join in open discussion. The first classes were held this afternoon to study the problem "What Is Wrong With the World?" Material for the classes is sent here by the state organization.

George Inskip met with the senior boys today, Arthur Gordon with the junior boys, Mrs. Miriam Frank with the senior girls, and Miss Mary Avul with the junior girls.

This is the fifth year that the Biglerville schools have been a part of this state program in which between six and seven hundred high schools of the state participate.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bushman and family were Sunday guests of Mrs. Bushman's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Klepper, Carlisle. Mr. and Mrs. Klepper entertained at a dinner in honor of her nephew, Petty Officer David Bushman, of Camp Peary, Virginia, who was celebrating his birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Harry Walter is reported to be slowly improving from a recent serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Benton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elias N. Hoffman, Wednesday.

The meeting of the consistory of Trinity-Bender's Reformed church will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the church instead of at the home of Herbert Miller as originally planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Wolford recently entertained at their home at Idaville Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moose and daughter, Linda, and Cpl. Miller, of York.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hawbecker and son, Freddy, of Biglerville, have returned from a visit with Mr. Hawbecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Hawbecker, of Chambersburg. Mr. Hawbecker's brother, David Hawbecker, pharmacist 1/c, is home on his first visit in four and one-half years. He recently returned from service in the South Pacific.

Mrs. A. A. D'Angelo has returned to Warren, Ind., after spending several months with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Pitzer, Biglerville.

The Biglerville school board will hold a regular meeting Friday evening.

The C. H. M. club will meet at the cafeteria of the Biglerville plant of the Musselman company, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Surplus Property Sales Being Probed

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Senators investigating the surplus property sales of Jacob (The Finder) Goldberg sought to develop today the extent of his contacts in government circles.

Testimony already in the record discloses he got a contract from the Defense Plant corporation to conduct two auctions despite his alleged attempt to "buy the influence" of a $5,600 DPC engineer with an offer of a $20,000 job.

It came yesterday from John VanGinhover, acting engineer in charge of DPC surplus property in the Nashville, Tenn., district. Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York, whose complaint against Goldberg, veteran finder and auctioneer of distressed properties, led to the investigation, was called in today to tell his story.

VanGinhover testified that Goldberg offered him a job at a meeting in a hotel room in Cleveland, Ohio, last August 9.

5 Nazi Prisoners Sentenced To Die

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—Five German prisoners of war have been sentenced to death by a court-martial, Newsweek magazine says, because they beat to death a fellow prisoner they suspected of giving valuable military information to the United States.

Newsweek, in its February 5 issue, declares the men killed a comrade at Camp Tonkawa, Okla., November 5, 1943, and now are awaiting "their doom in a federal penitentiary."

The dead man was identified as Cpl. Johann Kunze. The five men, all non-commissioned officers, were identified as Walter Beyer, Bertel, Paul Frank Stoner and Theodore Edgar Smith, Jr.

Seminary Student Accepts Pastorate

David Hoover, Railroad, a senior student at the Lutheran Theological seminary, has accepted a call as pastor of the Lutheran charge at McConnellsburg, Pa., composed of three churches, McConnellsburg, Big Cave and Sylvian.

He will assume the pastorate March 1 and will graduate from the seminary February 22.

He graduated in 1936 from the New Freedom high school, and from Gettysburg college in 1942. He has been supplying the McConnellsburg charge for some time. The pastor there was commissioned as a chaplain in the U. S. Navy.

WOULD AMEND PENAL LAW TO HIT AMATEURS

By JOE REICHLER

Brooklyn, Feb. 1 (AP)—With New York State's legislature lending a legal hand, as far as the empire state is concerned, basketball officials and other interested sportsmen throughout the nation today renewed their efforts to stamp out widespread gambling on games which one source estimated ran as high as $10,000,000 weekly.

While a Kings county grand jury returned yesterday conspiracy indictment against two men charged with bribing five Brooklyn college basketball players, the state legislature received two bills directly connected with gambling on sports contests.

Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson introduced a bill to amend the penal law which would make amateur athletes liable to fines up to $1,000 and imprisonment for one to five years. The present law applies only to professionals.

Increase Penalty
Also introduced in the legislature was a bill amending the penal code to make the offering of a bribe to an amateur athlete a felony, instead of a misdemeanor. A person found guilty of a felony is subject to 10 to 20 years imprisonment, whereas a misdemeanor is punishable by only one to two years.

Accused in the Kings county grand jury indictment were Harvey Stemmer and Henry Rosen, confessed bookmakers, who were charged with conspiring to "defraud the public" by bribing five Brooklyn College players to throw a game against Akron university of Ohio, scheduled at Boston last night. The game was cancelled.

No charges were placed against Bernard Barnett, Larry Pearlstein, Robert Leder, Jerry Green and Stanley Simon, the Brooklyn players, although they were named in the indictment as co-conspirators and will appear as witnesses when the case comes up before county Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz on Feb. 13.

The five players, already dropped from the school team, face possible sterner punishment today. The Brooklyn college faculty student athletic board was to meet this morning to decide on action. Leder is a member, as well as president of the college athletic association, but will not sit in at the meeting.

Feted At Birthday Surprise Party

A birthday surprise party was held recently at the home of Mary Wherley, Littlestown, in celebration of the 16th birthday anniversary of her daughter, Oneida. Refreshments were served and games played.

Guests included Fred Hartlaub, Paul Eline, Ralph Ungert, Ruth Wherley, all of Hanover; Mildred Detrick, Sandra Detrick, Willis Wherley, Dora and Mary Rohrbach, and Mildred Reaver, Gettysburg; Kenneth, Louise and Shirley Dodder, Nancy Keith, Esther Hankey, Arveta Peeser, Elizabeth Eckenrode, Robert Jacobs, Thomas Wilt, Mary Jane Bair, John Newman, Patricia Cookson, Mary Jane Wisotzkey, Herbert Sell, Wilbur Mayers, Clarence Schwartz, Don Rickrode, Doris Spangler, Clyde Miller, Robert Wolf, Richard Bixler, Charlotte Motter, Pauline Spaulding, Madeline Plunkert, Louella Harner, Emma Betty and Elwood Breighner, Doris Bittle, Charles Hall, Janet King, Paul Renner, Clyde and Helen Stair, Littlestown.

BAR GROUP DINES

All members of the Adams county bar association not in the armed services attended the annual dinner held by the group at the Hotel Gettysburg Wednesday evening. Included in the guests were President Judge Fred S. Reese, of Carlisle, president judge of the Cumberland county courts, and Dr. Walter H. Hitchler, of the Dickinson Law school.

MORE SNOW TODAY

Punxsutawney, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—High winds and zero cold gave Jefferson county another bitter taste of winter today. About three inches of snow fell overnight, roads were clogged by drifts, and school-buses in various parts of the county were stopped.

HIGH QUINT AT DELONE TONIGHT

This evening the Gettysburg high school basketball team will play its only game of the week when it engages Delone Catholic high on the McSherrystown floor.

The junior varsity teams will clash in the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock.

Tonight's tilt is expected to be a thriller. Coach "Hen" Bream's lads upset the Squires here last week 38-26 and the lower countians will be out for revenge.

Delone has won 11 of 13 games, the latest victory being a 27-11 decision over Hanover high Tuesday night. The Bream-men have copped their last three straight tilts to make their record four wins as against three reverses.

Friday night's scholastic program calls for New Oxford at Littlestown; East Berlin at Arendtsville, and the Biglerville girls at Lemoyne.

The Gettysburg college courtmen will resume action Friday evening after a layoff due to midyear exams by meeting Lehigh university at Bethlehem. Lehigh nipped the Bulls 44-38 here January 20 in an extra period tilt.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—No sooner had Maurie Waxman, Bobby Ruffin's personal drum beater, heard that Commissioner Eddie Egan was looking for a better way to score fights than he let out a blast that Ruffin wouldn't fight Johnny Greco tomorrow unless there was a new scoring system. . . . That threat didn't even get a laugh, but it served to point out the possibility of using the bout as a test case. . . . how about taking the best suggestions made yesterday and having one qualified judge use each method just to compare them with the official vote? . . . In New Orleans they let the fans have their choice and as a result the referee will name the winners alone.

APPLE PICKERS GAIN TWO WINS

Arendtsville high school's varsity cagers topped a twin bill from New Oxford high on the Arendtsville court Wednesday evening.

Coach Vernon Blough's boys topped to an easy 51-14 victory after piling up a 21-5 lead in the first half.

Both teams were handicapped by the loss of stars. J. Haar was missing from the New Oxford lineup due to illness while R. Slaybaugh, Arendtsville guard, was absent due to two fractured bones in his left arm and received in the game with North York Tuesday evening. Slaybaugh will probably be out for the season.

The Arendtsville girls won handily 46-27 with E. Dively netting 22 points. Seig paced New Oxford with 16.

East Berlin high will meet Arendtsville on the latter's floor Friday evening.

Dodds Needs Five Years To Taper Off

Los Angeles, Feb. 1 (AP)—Gil Dodds, the pacing parson, may be rough as a competitive runner, but will take five years for him to taper off from the strenuous conditioning process that made him America's No. 1 distance star.

Dodds was en route to Dallas to resume his youth evangelist mission. He completed a week of these meetings in Los Angeles before his departure. His life, he says, is devoted to non-denominational religious work, with emphasis on youth and its problems.

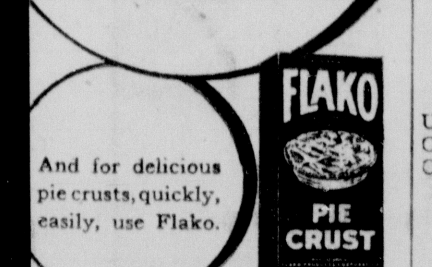

Galloping Gilbert had several workouts in the big Los Angeles memorial stadium while here and in a quarter mile in 51.5, the fastest of his life.

The medicos have told Dodds, who was graduated recently from a sectarian theological school, that he isn't quit running altogether. The human heart, complex machine that is, must be slowed down gradually.

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TRANSFER GI'S FROM EUROPE WITHOUT GEAR
By EDWARD H. HIGGS
Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Prospects of a speedier end of the Japanese war developed today with disclosure of a plan for a quick shift of troops from Europe to the Pacific once Germany is defeated.

Under this system, which was described by high sources, troops in Europe will leave the bulk of their equipment on the continent and then re-arm in the Pacific with equipment piled up there from this country.

This could mean a savings of months in throwing the full weight of American forces against the Japanese. The campaign against them already has been described by War Secretary Stimson as ahead of schedule.

Add To War Costs
The plan will add to war costs, require a continuation of a high rate of production and postpone the day of reconversion.

On the other hand, it was pointed out that it would mean the savings of perhaps thousands of lives that might otherwise be lost in a prolonged campaign.

Two other factors undoubtedly figured in the adoption of the plan: 1. A scarcity of shipping to handle the tons and tons of equipment and 2—The war against Japan is moving along months ahead of schedule while the European war is lagging, narrowing the time available to shift European forces to achieve the greatest benefit from their use in the Pacific.

While it was not disclosed what equipment would be left behind, trucks, construction equipment and perishable goods presumably would be included. All of these could be used in the rehabilitation of France, Italy, Belgium and Holland.

Most of the airplanes still in operating condition, especially heavy bombers, undoubtedly would be flown to Pacific bases. Small arms, some artillery and tanks also presumably would be shipped.

Urges Training Of Pupils For Farms
Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—Rural school children who are best fitted for farming should be selected, encouraged and trained, Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture today told members of the Rural Institute of the Board of Home Missions of the Lutheran ministry.

Declaring in a prepared address that state financial aid to rural schools is "completely justified," Horst said "all society benefits through any improvement that comes to rural education."

He explained that improved practices, increased production on per worker on farms, and a tendency toward more intensive farming on smaller acreages after the war will provide opportunity in agriculture for at least as great a percentage of farm youths as before the war.

MANY HOTELS FAVOR BAN ON CONVENTIONS
(By The Associated Press)
The nation's hotel keepers today greeted the start of the government's ban on non-essential conventions with both relief and apprehension.

An Associated Press survey indicated the ban would ease the hotel room shortage in such cities as New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Cleveland, but a spokesman for the American Hotel Association said the government ruling would cut business sharply in many cities where hotels were not crowded.

The ban, effective today, prohibits conventions attended by more than 50 persons unless such conventions are given special permits because of their importance to the war effort. The measure was aimed primarily at lightening railroad traffic.

Calls it a Godsend
Joseph E. Means, vice president of the Philadelphia Hotel Association described the ban as a "Godsend" because "now we can better accommodate travelers on essential war business."

Hotel officials in New Orleans welcomed the ban because "we'll turn down only a few hundred people daily instead of a thousand."

The Statler company spokesman said convention cancellations were "very large" in Boston, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. Spokesmen in Chicago said conventions scheduled there this week would be held as scheduled.

Although a spokesman for the New York Central Railroad said the ban "will have a favorable effect" on the railroads, other lines for the most part thought it too early to assess the result. No decrease in rail reservations was noted at such key points as Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Health Writer Takes Own Life
Kansas City, Feb. 1 (AP)—Dr. Logan Glendinning, 60, who gave daily health hints to an estimated 50,000,000 readers in a syndicated newspaper column, became so despondent over his own failing health yesterday that he took his life.

Benton Tibbs, a detective in the homicide bureau, said Dr. Glendinning had slashed his left wrist and cut his jugular vein. The body of the wealthy physician, clad in blue silk pajamas, was found in his shaded, darkened bedroom. There was no note, but he had told friends recently that he feared he was suffering from leukemia, a disease for which there is no known cure.

Probe Deaths Of 17 In Fire
Auburn, Me., Feb. 1 (AP)—Maine officials began a series of investigations today to determine cause of a fire which snuffed out the lives of 16 children and a nurse in a private-owned boarding home.

Even as state and local officials met in closed session at police headquarters hundreds of townsfolk assembled to pay final homage to the first of the children to be buried.

One investigation was launched by Harry O. Page, state commissioner of Health and Welfare who said he could not "understand the great loss of life."

Page said the home was being operated without a legally-required license from the Bureau of Social Welfare, but "it was not felt there was a fire hazard there."

Fire officials were unable to explain cause of the blaze after Mrs. Eva Lacoste, the proprietor of the home retracted her original statement that a coal heating stove in the kitchen had exploded.

8,000, Not 18,000 AWOL In Europe
Paris, Feb. 1 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord U. S. provost marshal, said today that 8,000 American soldiers are absent without leave in the European theater—not 18,000 as reported last week in a statement credited to his office.

Reckord said the 18,000 total, which was published in the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes January 26, probably had been computed by adding the approximately 800 new AWOL cases reported daily and not taking into account those who returned to duty each day.

Workers Inventory Begun At Allentown
Allentown, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—A War Manpower Commission inventory of "non-essential" male workers in retail and service business is in progress here to determine how many can be made available to war industries in a further application of Allentown's "war work or no work" plan.

Since Jan. 1, Area WMC director Dr. Frank Maguire reported yesterday, 729 men have been shifted to war work. He said 261 were referred under the Allentown plan and the rest shifted voluntarily.

Amusement Spots To Get No Coal
Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (AP)—Delivery of coal to places of amusement has been banned here under a "state of emergency" order issued yesterday by Mayor Bernard Samuel.

Included under the ban, occasioned by a critical fuel shortage are all theaters, dance halls, gymnasiums, arcades, bowling alleys and pool rooms. Cafes and bar-rooms escape because they are classified as eating places.

The order allows delivery of enough fuel to prevent damage to plumbing.

ADVENTURING THROUGH BOOKS
All life is an adventure, with books containing the record. But he who has not formed the habit of adventuring through books has missed one of the great joys of life.

In life we all adventure in our own way, and it's the same in books. I recently read a most interesting little book by R. L. Stevenson, in which he outlined his favorite adventure, and here was the order: Shakespeare's "Hamlet," the "Three Musketeers," "Pilgrim's Progress," Montaigne's essays, the "Gospel of St. Matthew," Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," Herbert Spencer, Lewis in his life of Goethe, the meditations of Marcus Aurelius, George Meredith's "The Egoist," Thoreau and Hazlitt, and that delightful little book of aphorisms by William Penn.

Can you think of a better adventure into books than this one suggested, as having been put to the test by Stevenson? To read intelligently is the test of the reader. Said R. L. S.: "If he tries to see what it means, what truth excuses it, he has the gift, and let him read."

We have to arrange our own book adventures, however, the same as we plan our own vacations. No one, really, can map out our tastes for us. We have to dig into ourselves for them, and gain the joy of discovery. We have to select the books and the reading that seem best suited to our mental digestion, the same as we select the food we eat for our body.

The great classics of the world, for example, have been tried and tested. They are the bread and meat of a universal diet for the mind. And each new era turns to them, for sustenance and guidance. Take the works of Shakespeare and the Bible. They are our never ending first sellers. They contain the substance of life.

In a way, the books that we read not only become a part of us, in reality they sketch our honest autobiography. They explain what manner of human being we are. They become the company that we keep. They form the index to our mind and our character. So, as we adventure through life, let us read by the way!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject, "Me and My Little 'Noseless'."

Firm to Build New Home Here:
To meet the demand for their products, members of the firm of the Peters Cement Products company, Race Horse alley, plan to install all modern machinery used in their business in their new home, which is to be erected on the site of their present establishment before summer.

The cements products company moved to Gettysburg from Biglerville two years ago.

Lions Entertained at a Dinner-Dance:
Twenty-five members of the Gettysburg den of Lions, with their ladies, attended a dinner-dance of the club at Hotel Gettysburg Thursday evening.

In the absence of J. Donald Swope, president of the club, who is assistant public prosecutor in the Haiman murder trial, John W. Brehm, first vice-president of the club, was master of ceremonies. Dr. Frank Kramer was head of the committee on arrangements.

Trouble Keeping Main Roads Open:
With busses of the Harrisburg and Gettysburg transportation company held up between York Springs and Rosegarden Friday morning on account of five-foot snow drifts, officials at the local office of the State Highway department promised that before evening a one-way traffic lane would be pushed through the drifts.

Personal: Mrs. Eva Louise Sachs who was operated upon for peritonitis at the Warner hospital has been discharged from the hospital and taken to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Sachs, Gettysburg R. 1.

William Burgoon, of Littlestown, has entered Gettysburg college, and is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Burgoon, Springs avenue.

Miss Grace Wagner, of Table Rock, has left for Baltimore to enter the nurses training school at the University hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lott, Katharine Warner and Robert Carter, of Gettysburg, and Willis Lott, of Nishawana, Indiana, spent several days with friends in Baltimore and Washington.

Mrs. M. C. Jones, of Hanover, was a guest Monday of Mrs. George W. Bochner, Lincoln avenue.

TRANSFER GI'S FROM EUROPE WITHOUT GEAR

By EDWARD H. HIGGS

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Prospects of a speedier end of the Japanese war developed today with disclosure of a plan for a quick shift of troops from Europe to the Pacific once Germany is defeated.

Under this system, which was described by high sources, troops in Europe will leave the bulk of their equipment on the continent and then re-arm in the Pacific with equipment piled up there from this country.

This could mean a savings of months in throwing the full weight of American forces against the Japanese. The campaign against them already has been described by War Secretary Stimson as ahead of schedule.

Add To War Costs
The plan will add to war costs, require a continuation of a high rate of production and postpone the day of reconversion.

On the other hand, it was pointed out that it would mean the savings of perhaps thousands of lives that might otherwise be lost in a prolonged campaign.

Two other factors undoubtedly figured in the adoption of the plan: 1. A scarcity of shipping to handle the tons and tons of equipment and 2.—The war against Japan is moving along months ahead of schedule while the European war is lagging, narrowing the time available to shift European forces to achieve the greatest benefit from their use in the Pacific.

While it was not disclosed what equipment would be left behind, trucks, construction equipment and perishable goods presumably would be included. All of these could be used in the rehabilitation of France, Italy, Belgium and Holland.

Most of the airplanes still in operating condition, especially heavy bombers, undoubtedly would be flown to Pacific bases. Small arms, some artillery and tanks also presumably would be shipped.

PROBE DEATHS OF 17 IN FIRE

Auburn, Me., Feb. 1 (AP)—Maine officials began a series of investigations today to determine cause of a fire which snuffed out the lives of 16 children and a nurse in a privately-owned boarding home.

Fire officials were unable to explain cause of the blaze after Mrs. Eva Lacoste, the proprietor of the home, retracted her original statement that a coal heating stove in the kitchen had exploded.

Urges Training Of Pupils For Farms

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—Rural school children who are best fitted for farming should be selected, encouraged and trained, Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture today told members of the Rural Institute of the Board of Home Missions of the Lutheran ministerium.

Declaring in a prepared address that state financial aid to rural schools is "completely justified," Horst said "all society benefits through any improvement that comes to rural education."

He explained that improved practices, increased product on per worker on farms, and a tendency toward more intensive farming on smaller acreages after the war will provide opportunity in agriculture for at least as great a percentage of farm youths as before the war.

Workers Inventory Begun At Allentown

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—A War Manpower Commission inventory of "non-essential" male workers in retail and service business is in progress here to determine how many can be made available to war industries in a further application of Allentown's "war work or no work" plan.

Since Jan. 1, Area WMC director Dr. Frank Maguire reported yesterday, 729 men have been shifted to war work. He said 261 were referred under the Allentown plan and the rest shifted voluntarily.

Amusement Spots To Get No Coal

Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (AP)—Delivery of coal to places of amusement has been banned here under a "state of emergency" order issued yesterday by Mayor Bernard Samuel.

Included under the ban, occasioned by a critical fuel shortage are all theaters, dance halls, gymnasiums, arcades, bowling alleys, and pool rooms. Cafes and bar-rooms escape because they are classified as eating places.

The order allows delivery of enough fuel to prevent damage to plumbing.

MANY HOTELS FAVOR BAN ON CONVENTIONS

(By The Associated Press)
The nation's hotel keepers today greeted the start of the government's ban on non-essential conventions with both relief and apprehension.

An Associated Press survey indicated the ban would ease the hotel room shortage in such cities as New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Cleveland, but a spokesman for the American Hotel Association said the government ruling would cut business sharply in many cities where hotels were not crowded.

The ban, effective today, prohibits conventions attended by more than 50 persons unless such conventions are given special permits because of their importance to the war effort. The measure was aimed primarily at lightening railroad traffic.

Calls It a Godsend
Joseph E. Mears, vice president of the Philadelphia Hotel Association, described the ban as a "Godsend" because "now we can better accommodate travelers on essential war business."

Hotel officials in New Orleans welcomed the ban because "we'll turn down only a few hundred people daily instead of a thousand."

The Statler company spokesman said convention cancellations were "very large" in Boston, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. Spokesmen in Chicago said conventions scheduled there this week would be held as scheduled.

Although a spokesman for the New York Central Railroad said the ban "will have a favorable effect" on the railroads, other lines for the most part thought it too early to assay

Health Writer Takes Own Life

Kansas City, Feb. 1 (AP)—Dr. Logan Clendening, 60, who gave daily health hints to an estimated 50,000,000 readers in a syndicated newspaper column, became so despondent over his own failing health yesterday that he took his life.

Benton Tibbs, a detective in the homicide bureau, said Dr. Clendening had slashed his left wrist and cut his jugular vein. The body of the wealthy physician, clad in blue silk pajamas, was found in his shaded, darkened bedroom. There was no note, but he had told friends recently that he feared he was suffering from leukemia, a disease for which there is no known cure.

the result. No decrease in rail reservations was noted at such key points as Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Plumbing is the science of getting it where it is wanted and how it is wanted, and then getting it away again.

Sees Failure Of Bill To Raise Pay

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—Sen John M. Walker (R-Allegheny) does not expect the general assembly to approve his bill to increase salaries of judges in Pennsylvania.

Walker made the statement to reporters after publication of a protest against the salary raising measure by Chief Justice George W. Maxey, of the state supreme court.

Walker's bill is pending in the Senate Judicial committee of which he is the chairman.

Guardsmen Help Clear Railroads

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 1 (AP)—Several thousand New York National Guardsmen battled today against a weather-born fuel and transportation crisis, aiding railroads to clear snow-clogged yards and assisting in emergency fuel deliveries.

Unfavorable weather continued to hamper efforts of emergency workers with snow and wind in Western New York combining for blizzard conditions.

New Postal Notes Placed On Sale

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—The postal note, a simplified and cheaper form of money order, went on sale today in 1,800 first-class postoffices.

Its use, for the present, is limited to the sending of sums between one cent and $10. The uniform service charge is a nickel.

Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler stated today that he has not yet received any of the new forms.

ALLEN FAVORS SPORTS' CZAR

Lawrence, Kas., Feb. 1 (AP)—Phog Allen, who was yelling "Rite, fire," months ago when others couldn't even see smoke in basketball betting, wants Gen. Douglas MacArthur to be the man to give collegiate sports the thorough renovating it needs.

Phog predicted last fall that an incident would occur such as the one which brought indictment yesterday of two men in connection with the alleged bribing of five Brooklyn basketball players.

At that time he said basketball games had been thrown in Madison game, says he wouldn't even consider the post for himself.

"I'm not after any job; I've got one," shot back the Phogger when asked if he would like to fill the job of collegiate sports czar he proposes.

"It will take a great organizer and General MacArthur, who always has been a great sports fan, would be the man to give collegiate sports the thorough renovating it needs."

BERNIE STOCK STARRING WITH CAMP QUINTET

Lt. Bernard Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stock, North Stratton street, a former athlete at Gettysburg high school, is one of the outstanding basketball players on the camp Carson, Colo., post quintet, according to an article which recently appeared in a post publication.

The article follows:

"Probably the most nimble-footed player on the squad is the slightly-built Lt. Bernard Stock, who did most of his big-time playing at Gettysburg high school, where he played four years of varsity ball and one of the best players in the state.

"With the jayvees in 1934-35, his first fling at the game, Stock averaged 12 points a game in leading his club to 18 victories against a single loss, which was good enough to capture the conference title. Playing with the varsity in his junior year, Stock earned the reputation of being a head set-shot center, which helped him to lead the all-South Penn Conference team. He tallied 266 points in 19 games, was the conference's second highest scorer, and made 23 shots for his biggest night.

Lose Play-Off

"In his high school days Stock played at a forward slot, and he kept up the same high-scoring pace in his senior year, coming out second once more, and sparking his club to the play-offs, when they finally lost to Hanover, 36-20, although Stock led the cords for 11 points. Again he made the all-conference team.

"Before entering college, the Re-conn lieutenant went to Franklin and Marshall prep school and there played on the east's top prep school hoop outfit, which 23 of 24 games. Every player had been a Penn conference player, and Stock admitted an excellent year, one in which he tallied an average of 12 points a game for 288 total. It was about the greatest team and bunch of stars I ever played with," Stock opined.

"Before entering the service in 1940, Stock played guard on the All-American team, losing only to a popular Albright college club twice. The lieutenant played his most brilliant all against Harrisburg, racking up 41 points. In the Army, Stock did his first court work with Cy Kesselman's star-loaded 28th Division team, which played nearly every big game college in Louisiana and Mississippi.

Fast Competition

"Stock transferred to the Air Corps in 1942, and probably played his best class ball with one of the nation's highest-regarded service teams, Lubbock Army Air Base, in Texas. Last year he played with three all-Americans on Lubbock, Ed Kallein and John Dine. Still, Stock got into most every ball game, having his hottest night against Texas Tech, in which he scored 15 markers. During his two years with Lubbock, Stock

PENN QUINTET SETS NEW MARK

(By The Associated Press)
The University of Pennsylvania basketball team set a new all-time scoring high last night when it vanquished the U. S. Naval Hospital 75-55 in Philadelphia. High scorer for Penn was Bart Fugler, Navy V-12 trainee, who tossed seven field goals for 14 points.

At Lewisburg, Muhlenberg college's crack quintet came from behind in the last two minutes to defeat Bucknell 35 to 33. The Bisons, ahead nearly all the way, saw their lead vanish when Jim Doran and Whitey Baldwin scored for the Mules. A sneak shot by Baldwin then took the game.

Wildcats Win

The Villanova Cats, playing on their home floor, chalked up a 46-36 win over Rider college, sparked by Francis "Buddy" O'Neill, who returned to the lineup after a 30-day absence and scored 19 points. Villanova thus snapped a five-game losing streak.

Bob Giest, scoring 22 points, led Ursinus college to a 52-42 victory over Swarthmore at Collegeville. Giest made nine field goals and four foul shots.

At Easton, Lafayette college routed Drew university, 44-36, for its

BERNIE STOCK STARRING WITH CAMP QUINTET

Lt. Bernard Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stock, North Stratton street, a former athlete at Gettysburg high school, is one of the outstanding basketball players on the Camp Carson, Colo., post quintet, according to an article which recently appeared in a post publication.

The article follows:
"Probably the most nimble-footed player on the squad is the slightly-built Lt. Bernard Stock, who did most of his big-time playing at Franklin and Marshall college and Lubbock Army Air Base. This baldish guard got his start at Gettysburg high school, Pa., where he played two years of varsity ball and one of its.

With the jayvees in 1934-35, his first fling at the game, Stock averaged 12 points a game in leading his club to 18 victories against a single loss, which was good enough to win the conference title. Playing with the varsity in his junior year, Stock earned the reputation of being a dead set-shot, which helped put him on the all-South Penn. Conference team. He tallied 266 points in 19 games, was the conference's second highest scorer, and made 23 points for his biggest night.

Lose Play-Off
"In his high school days Stock played at a forward slot, and he kept up the same high-scoring pace in his senior year, coming out second once more, and sparking his club to the play-offs, when they finally lost to Hanover, 36-20, although Stock hit the cords for 11 points. Again he made the all-conference team.

"Before entering college, the Recon lieutenant went to Franklin and Marshall prep school and there played on the east's top prep school hoop outfit, which 23 of 24 games. Every player had been a Penn conference star, and Stock admitted an excellent year, one in which he tallied an average of 12 points a game for a 288 total. 'It was about the greatest team and bunch of stars I ever played with,' Stock opined.

"Before entering the service in 1940, Stock played guard on the Franklin and Marshall college freshman team, losing only to a potent Albright college club twice. The lieutenant played his most brilliant ball against Harrisburg, racking up 24 points. In the Army, Stock did his first court work with Cy Kasselmann's star-loaded 28th Division team, which played nearly every big name college in Louisiana and Mississippi.

Fast Competition
"Stock transferred to the Air Corps in 1942, and probably played his best class ball with one of the nation's highest-regarded service teams, Lubbock Army Air Base, in Texas. Last year he played with three all-Americans on Lubbock, Pete McLeod, Ed Kalfin and John Kline. Still, Stock got into most every ball game, having his hottest night against Texas Tech, in which game he scored 15 markers. During his two years with Lubbock, Stock

Nazi Siegfried

border through the Gerolstein forest 12 miles northeast of St. Vith.

The Second (Indian Head) Division advanced a mile beyond Rocherath in the Monsechau forest, and its patrols at points were in contact with the first formidable belt of Siegfried line fortifications. The fighting First Division pushed two miles ahead without challenge in sight of the fortifications.

The 78th Division encountered heavy resistance east of captured Kesternich, where it had crossed the headwaters of the Roer river. The villages of Impenbroich, Hupper-broich and Eichenscheid were mopped up.

"The enemy has further strengthened these positions by community digging and the defenses now are surrounded by a maze of anti-tank ditches and criss cross trench lines," a spokesman for the 21st Army Group said.

The Siegfried line heavy concrete pillboxes were built in 1938 and now are outmoded by improved assault weapons. Where natural obstacles are plentiful, the Siegfried line works are sparse. Where terrain is level, as many as 500 or 600 pill-boxes dot a square mile.

With the Siegfried's main defenses under heavy artillery fire and the Americans pushing into the outposts of the line, it appeared to be only a matter of days, if not hours, until the Allies would know to what extent the Germans have weakened their western defenses by shifting troops to the east.

PAPER LAUDS

County Agent M. T. Hartman is next to Mr. Thomas. The Lucabaughs are buying bonds to assure money for a new spray outfit. Old one has been overhauled four times, but will not give up until the Japs are whipped."

The article follows:
The people of Adams county seem to think War Bond drives are push-overs. No wonder! Their results confirm it. Yet there isn't one war plant in the county. Though the "first county" in the Keystone state, the population doesn't come to 40, 000 people. Actually, it's only real physical association with the war is an overabundance of patriotism and more than 3,500 men and women in the armed forces.

"Over the Top"
"Look what the citizens of this small county in southeastern Pennsylvania, where dairy and poultry products are bywords but not big money makers, have done! They have oversubscribed five consecutive War Bond drives for a grand total of more than $12,000,000. In the Fourth War Bond Drive, they made it possible for Adams county to be the first county in the state to go over the top. In the Fifth, they oversubscribed by more than $800,000.

"There are many reasons. Primarily, it's the patriotic spirit of the people who make up the population. War spirit seems to have been bred in the bone of these stalwart citizens.

"The county has been ably represented, both with officers and enlisted personnel, in every war in which this country has been engaged, beginning back in the late eighteenth century. Generals have gone fourth to the wars from Adams county.

"In the bond drives, Edmund W.
Thomas, chairman of the Adams County War Finance committee and president of the First National bank of Gettysburg, has sparked his workers to an over-the-top objective that has borne fruit in five consecutive campaigns. With 300 volunteer workers, every town, village, and hamlet is well organized. They are subdivided into small, compact War Bond teams. Every resident in the county is contacted again and again in each drive. Schools are all organized from the big high schools to the one-room rural schools.

Ag. Program
"The 21 townships are organized into a strictly agricultural network that carries on a miniature bond drive of its town. A township chairman divides his area into small districts and assigns crews to visit every farmer at least three times during each drive.

"Yes, the entire county is permeated with the spirit of selling bonds to back the attack and win the war. Chairman Thomas relentlessly drives his workers to not only achieve the quota-goal, but to over-subscribe it. And they do it."

Japs Say U. S. Ships Nearing Corregidor

(By The Associated Press)
American warships are nearing Corregidor while others in Subic bay are steering northwestern Batasi peninsula in the Philippines, unconfirmed Tokyo radio broadcasts reported today.

"The enemy is sending warships to the vicinity of Corregidor island," one broadcast said. "From Corregi-dor (at the entrance of Manila bay), cruising of American shipping in the adjacent waters is reported."
A Domei news agency dispatch said "more than 10 battleships, cruisers, destroyers and several other unidentified ships" had steamed into Subic bay, which Gen. Douglas MacArthur earlier announced was again being converted into an American naval station.

SPIRIT OF ETHAN ALLEN

Rugged Vermont, originally New Connecticut, declared its independ-in 1777 and has continually fought for that freedom through all the Nation's wars. As Colonel Com-around the world. Today—and for years to come—his monument at Burlington will exhort men to give their lives, if need be, for the sup-

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—Ed Wynn, who again is leaving the microphone at the end of the first 26-week contract period for his Blu comedy series on February 26, reports that more broadcasting is to be part of his future schedule. Meanwhile, he expects to spend several weeks on another tour of service hospitals in this country.

START NURSE TRAINING

Miss Elinor Geyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Geyer, Cash-town, and Miss Mae Spence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spence, Orrstown, Pa., reported at Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, today, to begin training as cadet nurses. Miss Geyer graduated last spring from Gettysburg high school while Miss Spence also graduated last year from Arendtsville high school.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Clerk of the Courts Mrs. Howard W. Sheffer issues a marriage license today to Tech. Sgt. Raymond Felix, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Felix, McSherrystown, and veteran of 30 bombing missions over Germany and occupied countries with the Eighth Air Force, and Miss Joan H. Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kaiser, New Oxford.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—Ed Wynn, who again is leaving the microphone at the end of the first 26-week contract period for his Blu comedy series on February 26, reports that more broadcasting is to be part of his future schedule. Meanwhile, he expects to spend several weeks on another tour of service hospitals in this country.

Guerrillas Joining U.S. Merchant Marine

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Former Filipino guerrillas, now that their job of killing Japanese has been taken over by American troops, are signing up with the American merchant marine.

They are being used to replace casualties among merchant ships' crews in the battle of the Philippines, the War Shipping Administration reported today.

Georgia Lawmakers Vote Down Poll Tax

Atlanta, Feb. 1 (AP)—Both branches of the Georgia Legislature have voted overwhelmingly for repeal of the state's $1 a year poll tax and only acceptance by the Senate of a substitute House bill remains before the levy is wiped out.

Senate leaders said they had no objection to bill the House passed yesterday, 141 to 31. Last week the Senate voted 31 to 19 for repeal but its measure provided for biennial registration of voters. The House changed the bill to retain permanent registration.

The measure came up in the House a week after 38-year-old Gov. Ellis Arnall, in a blistering speech to the lawmakers, said he would suspend the levy, under a century-old act giving him that power, unless the Legislature repealed it.

DEATHS LAST NIGHT

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—John Gorman Harwood, 68, actor and stage director, died in London, Dec. 28, it became known last night.

Kingston, N. Y., Feb. 1 (AP)—Col. Charles T. Gwynne, 70, honorary vice president and former executive vice president of the New York state Chamber of Commerce, died last night. He was born in New York city.

V-12 Naval Unit At Mount St. Mary's College To Be Inactivated July 1

ENROLLMENT SLASHED FOR FINAL PERIOD

The Navy V-12 training unit at St. Mary's college will be inactivated July 1, it was announced today by the Rev. Fr. William F. Culhane, vice-president and treasurer of the college.

This action has been taken as a result of the recently announced policy of the Navy Department to curtail the V-5 and V-12 training programs for Naval reservists. Father Culhane said. A number of schools throughout the country will lose their Naval students at the same time.

Father Culhane also announced that there will be a reduction of approximately 50 per cent in the number of V-12 trainees at the college after the first of March. There will be "slightly less" than 200 of the Naval reservists now studying at the mountain institute and that number will be reduced to about 100 for the next 16-week training cycle.

Few Civilian Students

With the departure of the Naval students, the college will be facing a serious problem. "But," Father Culhane stated, "we will just have to do the best we can. About all we can do is wait and see what the future brings forth."

While there ordinarily are about 100 civilian students at Mt. St. Mary's, because of war conditions, including the drafting for military duty of all able-bodied boys from 18 years up, there are now only 10.

The V-5 and V-12 programs which have been in operation at the college have given the school an opportunity to make use of most of its facilities and to use the full extent of its faculty.

Rebuild After Fire

All students, both Naval and civilian, will begin a 10-day vacation on February 24 at the end of the present 16-week term. The entire school now is on a three-term schedule, with the four month sessions beginning in March, July and November.

Upon their return March 4, the rebuilt dining room and kitchen will be placed into use. Father Culhane said. The students moved this week into the rebuilt dormitory rooms in McCaffrey hall which was burned in a $100,000 fire the night of the general election, November 1943.

Thirty-six of the damaged rooms are completely rebuilt with new floors, ceilings and walls, with work completed last week. Work on the dining room, on the second floor, is expected to be completed by March 15.

The kitchen equipment was damaged only slightly in the blaze and is being moved to the basement of the building where a temporary dining room also was established. The students are being served in two shifts from the basement room, but will return to the old system at the opening of the new term.

There was practically no delay in the school program because of the fire, Father Culhane reported. Immediately after the blaze, emergency field kitchens were set up in the school equipment could be located. The Naval trainees who are forced from their rooms were quartered in another building.

DONATE 167 PINTS TO BLOOD BANK

Emmitsburg citizens, and Naval reservists, civilian students, seminary students and faculty members at St. Mary's college gave a total of 167 pints of blood to the American Red Cross blood bank which visited the colleges last week.

This donation was the greatest quantity yet given during any one year to Emmitsburg by the blood bank. It was announced by Mrs. Mary S. Boyle, East Main street, a Red Cross worker in charge of the blood bank work.

The total of 167 pints was just one less than the 168-pint capacity of the mobile Red Cross blood donor truck, the staff workers with the unit reported.

The donations from the college totaled about 140 with the balance contributed by persons from Emmitsburg and the surrounding territory. The unit came from Baltimore and was stationed for the night at the college. The local contributors went to the college to make their donations.

NEW OFFICER AT MOUNT UNIT

Lt. (jg) W. G. Pyles, of Hancock, Md., has assumed his duties as new executive officer of the Naval V-12 training program unit stationed at Mt. St. Mary's college. It was announced Wednesday by Lt. N. D. Matthews, the commanding officer.

Lieutenant Pyles replaces Lt. R. J. Richards who has been detached from the V-12 work at Mt. St. Mary's and has been assigned to duty as officer in charge of the medical and dental units of the V-12 program in the Baltimore and Washington, D. C. area.

Lieutenant Richards' new territory and duties include the supervision of the Naval V-12 programs in the medical and dental schools at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore; the University of Maryland, College Park; and Georgetown University and George Washington University, both in Washington.

Lieutenant Pyles is a native of Hancock. Before being assigned to his post at Mt. St. Mary's he served as the officer in charge of an armed guard crew of a Merchant Marine transport vessel. He wears the Atlantic-European and Atlantic-American service ribbons for his sea duty.

Overseas Vet Will Mine Coal On Leave

Westland, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP) — S. Sgt. George Vincent, a former coal miner now home on furlough after 20 months overseas, is going back to the mines "to relieve the coal shortage."

The 25-year-old turret gunner who recently completed 21 missions in the South Pacific says he intends to spend 14 days of his furlough mining needed coal.

"It's harder than flying," he said, "and I'm better fixed financially than ever before. This is to relieve the coal shortage."

MOUNT 5 WILL PLAY AMERICAN QUINT TONIGHT

One of the toughest games on its 12-game schedule will be played tonight by the Naval V-12 unit basketball team at Mt. St. Mary's college when it meets the squad from American university on the Emmitsburg college floor.

So far this year, the Navy boys have lost but one of the seven games played and they pointed today to an effort to increase their number of wins to eight. The American U. team is a good one this year and the indications are for a closely matched struggle.

Starting off the end of December, the Mount engers lost their first game, played after a very short practice period, to Johns Hopkins in a match at Baltimore. The Sailors soon found their sea legs, however, and two weeks later won a contest from the Camu Detrick cage squad.

Return Games

Since that time they have taken honors in games with Loyola university, the Westminster Theological seminary, the Carlisle barracks team and a return match with Loyola.

The remaining games on the Navy schedule after tonight are return matches in the following order: Camp Detrick, February 5; Carlisle Barracks, February 9; American university, February 14, and Johns Hopkins, February 16.

Following the Johns Hopkins game, February 16, the V-12 students will give a dance in the newly refinished mess hall for coeds from at least six different colleges in this vicinity.

Girls will be invited from Gettysburg college, Western Maryland college, Westminster, Hood college, Frederick; Shippensburg State Teachers' college; Penn Hall girls' school, Chambersburg; and Wilson college, also of Chambersburg.

Music will be furnished by Clark Sheetenham, and his orchestra from Frederick. Dancing will be held from 9 to 12 o'clock. Approximately 150 couples are expected to attend. The last dance of a similar nature was held at the college last spring.

EMMITSBURGIAN WOUNDED AGAIN

His wife, W. 4statu aoshrdjuetaad Pvt. Richard H. Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, recently received his third wound.

His wife, Mrs. Richard Rosensteel, received a communication from the War Department stating that he has been missing in action since January 2nd, somewhere in France. Other communications mention his being wounded and is now hospitalized at an unknown location. Pvt. Rosensteel was inducted into the service on August 25, 1943, sent overseas April, 1944, and received his first wound in his back and leg by shrapnel in the attack on St. Lo, France. He was wounded the second time at Nancy, the nature of which is not known. The third wound recently reported is mentioned as "lacerating wound of eyeball." The location of the engagement or the hospital is not known. He is a member of the Seventh Army, 79th Division. His mother, Mrs. Charles Rosensteel, resides at 207 East Main street. He has a brother, Louis, now on the high seas enroute to the southwest Pacific.

game, February 16, the V-12 students will give a dance in the newly refinished mess hall for coeds from at least six different colleges in this vicinity.

LONG FIGHT FOR CHILDREN TO GO ON AFTER WAR

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—The long fight—to prevent children under 16 from working when they should be in school—goes on.

This is the thinking behind the present efforts which have a double purpose and are sharply aimed at the postwar period:

1. To keep more children in school longer so they'll be better educated
2. To reduce the number of job-seekers after the war by keeping children in school longer.

The only way this seems possible to do any time in the near future is by state law on a state-by-state basis.

A Slow Process

Forty-four state legislatures meet this year. Women's clubs, Parent-Teacher clubs, organized labor and special children's committees will try to bring the legislators around to the 16-year minimum way of thinking.

At the Labor department's Children's Bureau it was said substantial progress may be made this year. If not, this year's efforts will be groundwork for other years. A nice phrase. It could mean much—or nothing.

Child labor legislation is a slow game. The proposed child labor amendment to the constitution has been kicking around since 1924 when it started out to get the approval of the necessary 36 states.

Only An Enabling Act

Between 1924 and 1934 it was ratified by 20 states. By 1937 it had been ratified by 28 states. And since 1937 none has acted upon it, which means that after 20 years it's still only a hope.

The amendment would be an enabling act, not a law in itself. It would empower Congress to prohibit the labor of boys and girls under 18. Its opponents consider this too much government control over children.

In the past year high school enrollments have dropped about 1 million while the number of children working has greatly increased.

About 3 million boys and girls between 14 and 17 are now working, half of them full time and half of them after school hours. During last summer's vacation the number jumped to 5 million.

Rules Varying in States

In 1943's last six months 3,677 minors in 1,314 establishments were found illegally employed in violation of the Child Labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards act.

This act, passed in 1938, controls only those industries which are engaged in interstate commerce.

Only two states—New York and New Jersey—have minimum age requirement which meets the Federal Fair Labor Act standards.

Thirteen others approach the standards in one way or another but 33 others have a basic minimum standard of less than 16 years for employment in manufacturing establishments or for employment during school hours.

MORE STATE AID

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—Appropriation committees of the House and Senate were asked in a Senate resolution to increase from $3.50 to $4 a day the state compensation paid state-aided hospitals for services to indigent persons.

U. S. alcohol production in 1943 required 50,000,000 bushels of wheat.

GIVE 167 PINTS TO BLOOD BANK

Emmitsburg citizens, and Naval trainees, civilian students, seminary students and faculty members at Mt. St. Mary's college gave a total of 167 pints of blood to the American Red Cross blood bank which visited the colleges last week.

This donation was the greatest quantity yet given during any one trip to Emmitsburg by the blood bank, it was announced by Mrs. Harry S. Boyle, East Main street, local Red Cross worker in charge of the blood bank work.

The total of 167 pints was just one pint less than the 168-pint capacity of the mobile Red Cross blood donor truck, the staff workers with the unit reported.

The donations from the college totalled about 140 with the balance being contributed by persons from Emmitsburg and the surrounding territory. The unit came from Baltimore and was stationed for the day at the college. The local contributors went to the college to make their donations.

DIES PLAYING BALL

Pittsburgh, Feb. 1 (AP)—Edward Donahue, 15, collapsed and died while playing basketball in the Central Catholic high school gymnasium last night, the coroner reported.

NEW OFFICER AT MOUNT UNIT

Lt. (jg) W. G. Pyles, of Hancock, Md., has assumed his duties as new executive officer of the Naval V-12 training program unit stationed at Mt. St. Mary's college, it was announced Wednesday by Lt. N. D. Matthews, the commanding officer.

Lieutenant Pyles replaces Lt. R. J. Richards who has been detached from the V-12 work at Mt. St. Mary's and has been assigned to duty as officer in charge of the medical and dental units of the V-12 program in the Baltimore and Washington, D. C. area.

Lieutenant Richards' new territory and duties include the supervision of the Naval V-12 programs in the medical and dental schools at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore; the University of Maryland, College Park; and Georgetown University and George Washington university, both in Washington.

Lieutenant Pyles is a native of Hancock. Before being assigned to his post at Mt. St. Mary's he served as the officer in charge of an armed guard crew of a Merchant Marine transport vessel. He wears the Atlantic-European and Atlantic-American service ribbons for his sea duty.

Overseas Vet Will Mine Coal On Leave

Westland, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP) — S. Sgt. George Vincent, a former coal miner now home on furlough after 26 months overseas, is going back to the mines "to relieve the coal shortage."

The 25-year-old turret gunner who recently completed 21 missions in the South Pacific says he intends to spend 14 days of his furlough mining needed coal.

"It's harder than flying," he said, "and I'm better fixed financially than ever before. This is to relieve the coal shortage."

MOUNT 5 WILL PLAY AMERICAN QUINT TONIGHT

One of the toughest games on its 12-game schedule will be played tonight by the Naval V-12 unit basketball team at Mt. St. Mary's college when it meets the squad from American university on the Emmitsburg college floor.

So far this year, the Navy boys have lost but one of the seven games played and they pointed today to an effort to increase their number of wins to eight. The American U. team is a good one this year and the indications are for a closely matched struggle.

Starting off the end of December, the Mount eagles lost their first game, played after a very short practice period, to Johns Hopkins in a match at Baltimore. The Sailors soon found their sea legs, however, and two weeks later won a contest from the Camp Detrick cage squad.

Return Games

Since that time they have taken honors in games with Loyola university, the Westminster Theological seminary, the Carlisle barracks team and a return match with Loyola.

The remaining games on the Navy schedule after tonight are return matches in the following order: Camp Detrick, February 5; Carlisle Barracks, February 9; American university, February 14, and Johns Hopkins, February 16.

EMMITTSBURGIAN WOUNDED AGAIN

His wife, W. 4 statu aoshrdluetaod Pvt. Richard H. Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, recently received his third wound.

His wife, Mrs. Richard Rosensteel, received a communication from the War Department stating that he has been missing in action since January 2nd, somewhere in France. Other communications mention his being wounded and is now hospitalized at an unknown location. Pvt. Rosensteel was inducted into the service on August 25, 1943, sent overseas April, 1944, and received his first wound in his back and leg by shrapnel in the attack on St. Lo, France. He was wounded the second time at Nancy, the nature of which is not known. The third wound recently reported is mentioned as "lacerating wound of eyeball." The location of the engagement or the hospital is not known. He is a member of the Seventh Army, 79th Division. His mother, Mrs. Charles Rosensteel, resides at 207 East Main street. He has a brother, Louis, now on the high seas enroute to the southwest Pacific.

Girls will be invited from Gettysburg college, Western Maryland college, Westminster, Hood college, Frederick; Shippensburg State Teachers' college; Penn Hall girls' school, Chambersburg; and Wilson college, also of Chambersburg.

Music will be furnished by Clark Sheetenham, and his orchestra from Frederick. Dancing will be held from 9 to 12 o'clock. Approximately 150 couples are expected to attend. The last dance of a similar nature was held at the college last spring.

LONG FIGHT FOR CHILDREN TO GO ON AFTER WAR

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—The long fight—to prevent children under 16 from working when they should be in school—goes on.

This is the thinking behind the present efforts which have a double purpose and are sharply aimed at the postwar period:

1. To keep more children in school longer so they'll be better educated.
2. To reduce the number of job-seekers after the war by keeping children in school longer.

The only way this seems possible to do any time in the near future is by state law on a state-by-state basis.

A Slow Process

Forty-four state legislatures meet this year. Women's clubs, Parent-Teacher clubs, organized labor and special children's committees will try to bring the legislators around to the 16-year minimum way of thinking.

At the Labor department's Children's Bureau it was said substantial progress may be made this year. If not, this year's efforts will be groundwork for other years. A nice phrase. It could mean much—or nothing.

Child labor legislation is a slow game. The proposed child labor amendment to the constitution has been kicking around since 1924 when it started out to get the approval of the necessary 36 states.

Only An Enabling Act

Between 1924 and 1934 it was ratified by 20 states. By 1937 it had been ratified by 28 states. And since 1937 none has acted upon it, which means that after 20 years it's still only a hope.

The amendment would be an enabling act, not a law in itself. It would empower Congress to prohibit the labor of boys and girls under 18. Its opponents consider this too much government control over children.

In the past year high school enrollments have dropped about 1 million while the number of children working has greatly increased. About 3 million boys and girls between 14 and 17 are now working, half of them full time and half of them after school hours. During last summer's vacation the number jumped to 5 million.

Rules Varying in States
In 1943's last six months 3,677 minors in 1,314 establishments were found illegally employed in violation of the Child Labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards act.

This act, passed in 1938, controls only those industries which are engaged in interstate commerce. Only two states—New York and New Jersey—have minimum age requirement which meets the Federal Fair Labor Act standards.

Thirteen others approach the standards in one way or another but 33 others have a basic minimum standard of less than 16 years for employment in manufacturing establishments or for employment during school hours.

MORE STATE AID
Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—Appropriation committees of the House and Senate were asked in a Senate resolution to increase from $3.50 to $4 a day the state compensation paid state-aided hospitals for services to indigent persons.

U. S. alcohol production in 1943 required 50,000,000 bushels of wheat.

"WE'D RATHER SAY YES"

We don't like to tell people that they'll have to wait to get a home telephone. We'd much rather say "yes" to requests for service. That's the way it used to be.

But the needs of war have first claim on available telephone equipment and on telephone manufacturing facilities and manpower. Delays in filling civilian orders just can't be helped.

All of us telephone people sincerely appreciate the cooperative understanding being shown by the many thousands who are waiting their turn to get service.

Yesterday: Mike O'Shane, impersonating the ambushed Tom Curran, meets Flesoon, foreman of the Double O Spread. The foreman introduces him to Si Wacker, proprietor of the popular La Bonita dance and bar-emporium in Big River. Wacker tries to drug the redhead. O'Shane foils the attempt and convinced that Wacker and Flesoon are acting in cahoots makes sure to ride behind the half-breed as they canter toward the Double O. Joan Curran runs out to greet her long-missing half-brother, but when she sees him, a look of bewilderment spreads over her face.

A perplexed frown etching her high forehead, Joan Curran searched his rugged features. Finally, her lips parted in a tremulous smile.

"It's foolish of me, Tom," she murmured, "but you are so different from what I expected." Hesitatingly she placed her hands upon his wide shoulders and kissed his cheek.

"I've never seen you before, Tom, and I've been alone—so long." Her soft brown eyes were reproachful. "Was it my fault?" he growled.

"No," she agreed hastily, "but let's forget the past! I need you—badly."

"What's the trouble?"

She shrugged her shoulders helplessly. "Oh, rustlers, among other things. And that man Flesoon, he scares me!"

"How long's Flesoon been around?"

"Five months. Silas Wacker, the saloonkeeper, hired Donovan, our foreman, soon after I was left—alone. Flesoon brought in a bunch of steers he'd recovered from Mexican raiders, so he said. I was at my wit's end, so I asked him to run the spread. It was either that or sell to Silas Wacker."

O'Shane's interest quickened. "So Wacker wants to buy?"

"He pestered Dad, and he's pestered me. I told him I'd sell if you weren't coming home."

O'Shane digested the information in gloomy silence. The situation was clear enough now, too clear. Wacker and Flesoon were in cahoots to loot the Double O.

Preoccupied by his thoughts, he jumped to his feet and paced the floor.

"What is it, Tom?" Joan's anxious inquiry broke into a welter of conflicting thoughts.

For years he had been a lone wolf, every interest centered upon himself. Right now, his paramount urge was to ride away out of this dilemma, before he shared the fate of the Currans. Opposed to this, he was conscious of a new and puzzling sensation, aroused by the lonely girl who stood watching him with appealing eyes.

"Nothing wrong, sis. I'm just thinking. You sure need a man to handle this spread—and that's me."

The girl's anxiety dissolved in a quick sigh of relief.

"I'm so glad!"

"Reckon I'll take a drink before I bed down."

"All right, Tom. The olla's at the end of the gallery and don't forget to fix the door."

Sipping a dipper of the cool water, he gazed into the night. The moon was obscured by banked clouds and the ranch buildings were vague shadows around him. A pony whickered in the corral and the watcher heard a smothered curse.

Softly, he stole down the gallery steps, crossed the yard and crouched in the lee of a barn.

A rider drifted through the corral gate, followed by another, and another. O'Shane counted five. In silence they passed him at a walk, blurred outlines in the gloom.

A night guard—or a raiding party? O'Shane thoughtfully returned to the house.

From habit, O'Shane woke with the dawn. He filled a bucket at the well and sluiced his head and shoulders. As he dried himself with a flour sack a metallic jangle filled the air, calling the hands to breakfast.

The crew was packed upon two long benches that ran along each side of a trestle table. Not a seat remained vacant, save a straight-backed chair at the far end of the table. A dozen pairs of bleak eyes met his unblinkingly as he moved along the length of the table. He hooked back the chair with his foot and sat down.

"Morning, fellers!" he hailed. "I'm Tom Curran."

Cold silence greeted his words. On his immediate right, a lantern-jawed rider with a thick mustache broke the tension.

"That's the boss's seat!"

"Guess I'm boss around here," returned O'Shane coolly.

"Mebbe so!" he said indifferently.

The redhead speared himself a couple of flapjacks and was smothering them with syrup when, as though cut off at a spigot, the clatter of knives and forks ceased.

He jerked his head up. Bulging jaw muscles knotted in anger, lank hair frowzy and eyes bleary with sleep, Flesoon was approaching with long strides.

"Get out of my seat, Curran!" Flesoon's snarl sounded above and behind him.

O'Shane slowly chewed and swallowed a mouthful of flapjack, washed it down with a gulp of coffee.

"Rustle another!" he replied curtly, and continued to eat.

With a quick oath, Flesoon grabbed the back of the chair in two powerful hands and wrenched it sideways in an endeavor to spill the usurper.

"Getting a mite too big for your boots, ain't you, Flesoon?" O'Shane snarled.

"Big enough to cut you down, you blasted maverick!" rasped the other, hand dropping to the gun at his side.

O'Shane backed slowly, in a half crouch, swinging right hand brushing his holster.

"Make your play!" The words cracked like a whiplash from the redhead's taut lips, his fingers closed over the black butt of his .45.

Flesoon's fingers twitched, his dark eyes blowered into the two chips of blue ice. He licked his lips, shuffled uneasily, then turned abruptly away towards the door.

"I ain't plugging the brother of Miss Joan," blustered the foreman over his shoulder, and disappeared from view.

A buzz of talk broke out as the

JEEP DRIVING HELPS SPORTS

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP)—Behind the wheels of service jeeps is being developed the greatest collection of daredevil racing drivers in history, says Jimmy Wilburn, world's champion dirt track auto driver.

But boxers?

"No," says Comdr. Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight champ. "There are no real good boxing men that I've observed in this war. It takes three or four years to develop a topnotch fighter."

Further:

"People say that the last war produced great fighters. It didn't. Gene Tunney came along, to be sure, but it was seven years after the war before he became champion."

Wilburn, just back from a 13 months' job overseas as a civilian technician with the Army Air Forces, predicted a tremendous post-war boom in auto racing as well as other branches of sports.

"The kids who drive those jeeps over the battlefields, through rivers, across deserts and through swamps are the nerviest lot of them all," he told Pete Norton, sports editor of the Tampa Tribune.

"Lots of them will turn to auto racing after the war. That's when racing fans are going to see some real thrills."

Dempsey, chief of the Coast Guard physical fitness program, in crew returned to their breakfasts.

Although not another word was addressed to him, O'Shane sensed a new respect in the attitude of the crew.

One by one, they rose from the table, rolled cigarettes and sauntered out of the shack. O'Shane was the last to leave. Leaning against the corral rail, he watched ropes snake out into the twisting, milling bunch of broncs as mounts were caught and saddled. A cool, drawling voice at his side snapped him into tense attention.

"Ain't you Mike O'Shane?"

O'Shane backed slowly, in a half crouch, swinging right hand brushing his holster.

"Make your play!" The words cracked like a whiplash from the redhead's taut lips, his fingers closed over the black butt of his .45.

Fleeson's fingers twitched, his dark eyes blowered into the two chips of blue ice. He licked his lips, shuffled uneasily, then turned abruptly away towards the door.

"I ain't plugging the brother of Miss Joan," blustered the foreman over his shoulder, and disappeared from view.

A buzz of talk broke out as the

JEEP DRIVING HELPS SPORTS

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP)—Behind the wheels of service jeeps is being developed the greatest collection of daredevil racing drivers in history, says Jimmy Wilburn, world's champion dirt track auto driver.

But boxers?

"No," says Comdr. Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight champ. "There are no real good boxing men that I've observed in this war. It takes three or four years to develop a topnotch fighter."

Further:

"People say that the last war produced great fighters. It didn't. Gene Tunney came along, to be sure, but it was seven years after the war before he became champion."

Wilburn, just back from a 13 months' job overseas as a civilian technician with the Army Air Forces, predicted a tremendous post-war boom in auto racing as well as other branches of sports.

"The kids who drive those jeeps over the battlefields, through rivers, across deserts and through swamps are the nerviest lot of them all," he told Pete Norton, sports editor of the Tampa Tribune.

"Lots of them will turn to auto racing after the war. That's when racing fans are going to see some real thrills."

Dempsey, chief of the Coast Guard physical fitness program, in crew returned to their breakfasts.

Although not another word was addressed to him, O'Shane sensed a new respect in the attitude of the crew.

One by one, they rose from the table, rolled cigarettes and sauntered out of the shack. O'Shane was the last to leave. Leaning against the corral rail, he watched ropes snake out into the twisting, milling bunch of brones as mounts were caught and saddled. A mool, drawing voice at his side snapped him into tense attention.

"Ain't you Mike O'Shane?"

NOW SERVING IN THE ARMED FORCES

RECONVERSION IS SLOW TASK SAY OFFICIALS

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Jobs, continued war production, slower return to the output of civilian goods.

These are all tucked into the simple disclosure late yesterday of the government's present plans to speed the war with Japan.

When Europe's war ends American troops shipped from there to the Pacific will leave their equipment behind; in the Pacific they'll pick up new stuff shipped directly there from this country.

Only the gloomiest expect the European war to last through 1945. But our war production programs are laid down for all of 1945.

Therefore probably a large part of the war material in those programs is intended to equate armies in the Pacific.

Pretty Good Guess
A War Production Board official said this is a pretty good guess.

Then that means much of the present shuffling of manpower and stepped-up production is taking into consideration the Pacific as well as the European war.

Replacing the equipment abandoned in Europe is a man-size job, even for this country and will keep many people working.

But what happened to War Mobilizer Byrnes' expressed belief last summer that war's end in Europe would throw 4 or more million people out of work?

The Byrnes thinking seems to have undergone a change sometime last November, or thereabouts. That is when suddenly we began to hear of the need for tighter lines on the home front.

Change Figures

And the Army, which last summer was thinking of cutting back its war orders about 50 per cent when Germany fell, about a month ago decided it couldn't cut back more than half that figure.

So it comes down to this.

Reconversion to peacetime work can now be carried out on a much slower scale than Mr. Byrnes was talking about last summer.

This slower reconversion pace means fewer people thrown out of jobs suddenly. It gives the whole country a chance to adjust itself to peacetime more gently without the embarrassment of mass unemployment.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Cashman will be named Robert Eugene.

Miss Mary J. Altland, who spent several weeks with local relatives, has returned to the home of her sister, Mrs. Edna Goodling, York.

Miss Beulah E. Wentz, teacher of the primary department of the local school, remains seriously ill at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Smith are entertaining their son, Pfc. George E. Smith, USMC, who has been recovering from a severe ankle wound suffered in south Pacific action some months ago.

A program, "Hymns We Love," is planned for Sunday evening, February 4, at Trinity Lutheran Sunday school. The hymns will be presented by the York Springs Lutheran Glee club and, sponsored by the Men's Bible class of the local church.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Renoll had as recent guests their son-in-law, Pvt. Chester Krall, Camp Culborne, La., with Mrs. Krall and their young son, who have been living near his camp.

SINGAPORE IS BOMBED AGAIN

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Superfortresses bombed Japanese military installations in the Singapore area today for the third time.

A press flash from 20th Air Force headquarters said B-29s of Brig. Gen. Roger M. Ramey's 29th Bomber Command struck by daylight from India bases. Details of the mission will be announced when operational reports are received.

In their last attack January 11 on this naval bastion at the tip of the Malay Peninsula, Superforts blasted shipping installations with good results. The first strike was made November 5.

Once called Britain's "Gibraltar of the East," Singapore was seized by the Japanese in 1942 and converted into their principal naval base in the Malay-Netherlands East Indies area. Its huge naval works can repair the largest vessels.

On nearby Penang island the Japanese maintain a big submarine haven. Both Singapore and the

SENATE SNARL OVER WALLACE CABINET POST

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Opposing sides in the dramatic fight over confirmation of Henry A. Wallace as Secretary of Commerce maneuvered confidently today as the Senate approached initial tests of strength in an almost unprecedented parliamentary snarl.

Administration leaders, awaiting with fast-diminishing hope for some word from President Roosevelt favorable to a compromise, called a Democratic conference to map strategy before the Senate doors opened on the politics-laden controversy.

They hoped to gain Senate consideration first of the George bill to strip the Commerce department of its vast lending agencies. It is their belief that the former Vice President can not be approved unless this measure is passed first, with assurance too that the President will approve it. This word was said to have been given the Chief Executive early this week.

Opponents Confident
Wallace opponents, however, believed they had the votes to block him even before the lending-curtailed legislation is taken up. They planned therefore to move that the nomination be the first order of business.

While Chairman Bailey, (D.-N.C.), of the Commerce committee, an anti-Wallace leader, argued that a motion to take up the nomination first was a preferential one, Senator Pepper, (D.-Fla.), said which comes first might hinge on who is recognized first by the chair. He predicted a majority would oppose taking up the nomination ahead of the measure.

Pepper discounted reports that the administration might compromise by having the nomination withdrawn or recommending the George measure. Minority reports taking opposite views in each instance were filed overnight by Senators Pepper, (Fla.), Bilbo, (Miss.), Mead, (N.Y.), and Magnuson, (Wash.), all Democrats.

14 To 5 Against
The committee voted 14 to 5 against Wallace and 15 to 4 for the George bill. The majority report filed by Senator Bailey on the nomination did not go into the merits of the controversy. His report on the bill did—voluntarily—but without mentioning Wallace by name.

"Frankly," the latter report stated, "the consequences of the vast political control that conceivably could

Thousands Of GIs Become Citizens

Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (AP)—On lonely Christmas island, a GI solemnly raised his right hand and repeated the oath of citizenship.

On Bougainville 300 soldiers and sailors pledged their loyalty in unison, their voices ringing against a background provided by motors of a flight of bombers leading an adjoining air strip.

On a battleship, in the jungles near the front on Wadke, huddled in a shelter during an air attack on Saipan.

Thus did nearly 3,000 American fighting men become citizens at Pacific battlefronts during a recent 11-month, 50,000 mile trip by Dr. Henry B. Hazard, 64-year-old naturalization officer.

Dr. Hazard, professor of political science at American university, Washington, D. C., has traveled nearly 100,000 miles since the second war power act authorized admission of servicemen to citizenship.

"Never," he said yesterday as he discussed his trips, "have I seen any group more affected emotionally by becoming citizens than those soldiers and sailors."

be excited by a cabinet officer in whose hands was placed the administration of these lending agencies can not be measured.

"The man who has charge of these agencies could so administer those powers as to determine the economic direction of the country, and with that, its social and political character."

The minority report favoring Wallace's confirmation declared no one has raised the issue of Wallace's "honesty or integrity."

"Those who oppose Mr. Wallace, we respectfully submit," the minority added, "either misunderstand Mr. Wallace or they oppose the program and policies for full production and full employment which Mr. Wallace laid before the committee."

FEW TOBACCO SALES

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—Removal of the War Food Administration's 1944 tobacco crop "freeze" in Lancaster county yesterday brought few sales, although there were plenty of prospective buyers. The little tobacco that did change hands reportedly sold at OPA ceilings of 21 cents for wrappers, seven cents for fillers and 10 cents for unsorted. Growers refused to sell for less and buyers could not legally pay more.

The American steel industry used 29,337,000 tons of limestone in 1943.

L DESIGNED SLASH REAL ESTATE TAXES

Gettysburg, Feb. 1 (AP) — A key legislative measure to help government reduce real estate taxes was ready today for prompt action in the General Assembly. It is to re-enact the emergency tax on gasoline permanent-ly into the motor fund was passed favorably by the House and Means Committee and will be the calendar when lawmakers meet next week.

John H. Lightenwelder, House speaker, said a companion bill to allocate money raised by the or municipalities to finance highway work is being drafted by the State Government Commissioner Martin has recommended specific grants from funds by the levy "be made to local municipalities so that they may reduce estate taxes."

Other Tax Bills
Municipal organizations have its allocation on a mileage basis. Legislation for floor action were tax bills calling for re-enact-ment of another two years of emer-gencies on liquor, cigarettes, receipts and corporate net in-

Martin has estimated these will raise $151,700,000 in the biennium. It is to permit the revenue sec-ond with the governor's approval, and the automobile inspection as much as 60 days was also in position for speedy action. Legislators said the measure was necessary because heavy snows have tied car owners from taking vehicles to inspection stations the inspection period ended yesterday.

Assembly is adjourned until Friday, February 5.

New Sallman Painting Depicts Theme of Crusade for Christ

Warner Sallman, whose portrait of Christ has sold 4,500,000 copies, depicts here the support of millions of Christians to the determination of their Leader that there be no more war. Methodists are among those who are working for liberty and justice for all men, through their four-year, five-fold Crusade for Christ.

Posters of the Sallman painting, now appearing in more than 41,000 Methodist churches across the nation, appeal for sacrificial contributions to the $25,000,000 Crusade relief and reconstruction fund, more than half of which will go for food, clothing and other aid for peoples of war devastated and occupied countries. Other phases of the Crusade for Christ call for support of cooperation among nations in the post-war world, renewed evangelism efforts, education for Christian stewardship and improvement of Sunday school attendance.

BILL DESIGNED TO SLASH REAL ESTATE TAXES

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP) — A key administration measure to help local government reduce real estate taxes was ready today for prompt enactment in the General Assembly.

A bill to re-enact the emergency one-cent tax on gasoline permanently and turn the $22,500,000 collected biennially into the motor fund was reported favorably by the House Ways and Means Committee and will be on the calendar when lawmakers return next week.

Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, House majority leader, said a companion bill to allocate money raised by the levy for municipalities to finance highway work is being drafted by the Joint State Government Commission.

Governor Martin has recommended that specific grants from funds derived by the levy be made to local governments so that they may reduce real estate taxes.

Other Tax Bills
Municipal organizations have urged its allocation on a mileage and population basis.

Also readied for floor action were other tax bills calling for re-enactment for another two years of emergency levies on liquor, cigarettes, gross receipts and corporate net income. Martin has estimated these taxes will raise $151,709,000 in the coming biennium.

A bill to permit the revenue secretary, with the governor's approval, to extend the automobile inspection period as much as 60 days was also placed in position for speedy action.

Sponsors said the measure was necessary because heavy snows have prevented car owners from taking their vehicles to inspection stations before the inspection period ended officially yesterday.

The Assembly is adjourned until Monday, February 5.

New Sallman Painting Depicts Theme of Crusade for Christ

Warner Sallman, whose portrait of Christ has sold 4,500,000 copies, depicts here the support of millions of Christians to the determination of their Leader that there be no more war. Methodists are among those who are working for liberty and justice for all men, through their four-year, five-fold Crusade for Christ.

Posters of the Sallman painting, now appearing in more than 41,000 Methodist churches across the nation, appeal for sacrificial contributions to the $25,000,000 Crusade relief and reconstruction fund, more than half of which will go for food, clothing and other aid for peoples of war devastated and occupied countries. Other phases of the Crusade for Christ call for support of cooperation among nations in the post-war world, renewed evangelism efforts, education for Christian stewardship and improvement of Sunday school attendance.

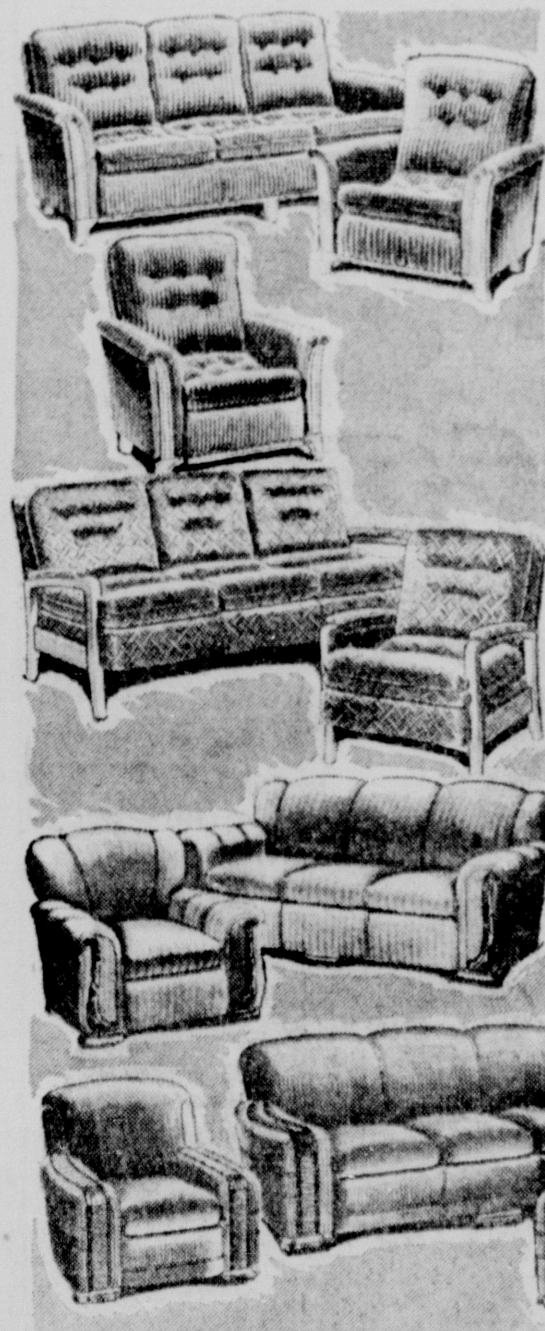

a match she was striking flew off and ignited her clothing, Deputy Coroner Joseph Govekar reported.

Before the war, although Greece was mainly an agricultural country, and 60 per cent of her population derived its income from the cultivation of the land, only one-fifth of her area was suitable for cultivation.

By HAL BOYLE

With the 517th Parachute Combat Team in Belgium, Jan. 25 (Delayed) (AP)—In a regimental command post, envious soldiers read a telegram:

"Corporal Blank holds a letter appointing him to the U.S.M.A. in 1945."

It was one of those things hundreds of soldiers dream about—an appointment of a front-line fighter to the United States Military Academy. The telegram continued: "If found physically qualified . . . will be returned to the United States to undergo training . . ."

Came Too Late
The chance of a lifetime! No more crawling through freezing snow under mortar fire, no more shivering at night in lonely foxholes—and no more "C" rations. The soldier was a parachute corporal who had fought through Italy, France and Belgium.

A runner took the telegram to a forward company with instructions to bring back the corporal immediately with full equipment—ready to start at once for home and West Point.

But no happy corporal came back. The runner returned with this brief message from company headquarters:

"Corporal Blank was killed in action at Trois Ponts, Belgium."

CAMEL CAVALRY IN INDIA—British Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck inspects a unit of the camel cavalry at an outpost of India where it is guarding the frontier.

The telegram had come five days too late.

Any good battlefield commander prizes the regard of his men above any recognition that higher headquarters can bestow. That is why Capt. Earl E. Ehly, former Philadelphia physical education instructor, treasures a letter written by a wounded man in his company to the commander of the 517th Parachute Combat team.

"Dear Sir," the letter said, "I am in hospital now with a fractured skull. Being an enlisted man under your command I would like to bring to your attention the kind of officer you have under your command."

"The officer I am referring to is Capt. Earl E. Ehly. Here were his actions while we were engaging the enemy at Soy, Luxembourg. We were advancing against a heavy concentration of small arms fire, mortar fire and 240-millimeter artillery fire. Capt. Ehly was hit in the leg, and as I started to help him an artillery shell of the 240-millimeter kind fell between us wounding about six more men. Capt. Ehly, neglecting his wounds and the mortar fire, crawled to me and gave me first aid treatment and words of encouragement. I wrote this letter of my own free will."

The letter was signed with an enlisted man's name. The letter—which means more to

MINOR HURDLE FACES SERVICE BILL IN HOUSE

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Its two biggest obstacles cleared, limited National Service legislation faced a relatively minor hurdle today before final House passage sends it to the Ehly than the hero's ribbons he wears over his left pocket—didn't add what the boys who patched up the wounded at the aid station remember. Capt. Ehly wouldn't permit them to give him blood plasma until he was personally shown that the supply on hand was sufficient for all his wounded men.

Senate.
Barring an unexpected upset, it will leave the House in substantially the form recommended by the Military committee—minus controversial "anti-closed shop" and "anti-discrimination" provisions which earlier had threatened to kill it. Safe voting margins piled up yesterday to knock down those two explosive proposals were counted on by backers of the legislation to hold firm today. They believe also they can turn back any other amendments to the legislation which was requested by President Roosevelt to provide the manpower needed for expanded war production.
Formality of Vote
"It's all over but the formality of a vote," said Chairman May, (D-Ky.), of the Military committee. "The bill will be passed late today by a margin of at least two to one, and there will be no major amendments."

Still to be disposed of are proposals:
To approach the manpower problem on a voluntary basis by giving the War Manpower Commission power to enforce employment ceilings on industry.
To put legal teeth into the WMC's existing job referral system by which it has sought to persuade men to move into essential jobs.
The Military committee bill—a coercive proposition—provides that any man between 18 and 45 may be directed by his local draft board to take an essential job under threat of induction, fine or imprisonment.
Even discharged war veterans are subject to its provisions, although draft boards could put off action on them until all non-veterans have been utilized for work.

Up To Byrnes
Determination of what an essential job is goes to the Director of War Mobilization under the committee bill, although the director may delegate that power to some other agency.
But once the determination is made, only the draft boards, subject to draft law appeal procedure, may tell a man to stay in his job or move into something more important to the winning of the war.
Once ordered to shift jobs, a registrant must be given a "reasonable choice" of employers and may decline to work for any of them if his draft board determines he had a just cause for doing so.
